PATENTS,

In connection with the Scientific American Messrs. Munn & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, have had thirty-five years' experience, and now have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all inventions patented through this agency, with the name and residence of Patentee. By the immense circulation thus given, public attention is directed to the merits of the new patents, and sales or introduction often easily effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to Munn & Co. We also send free our Hand Book about the Patent Laws, Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, their casts, and how procured, with hints for procuring advances on inventions. Address, for the paper or concerning patents, PREFACE.

In presenting to the inhabitants of Prince Edward Island their first edition of Teares' Directory and Hand Book of the Province, the publishers have no ordinary pleasure. In addition to the information usually found in Directories, it contains a laconic historical sketch of the Province, together with appropriate notices of all the principal towns, villages, and settlements. In order to make the work more complete and interesting, it will be seen, that a miscellaneous Directory or Hand Book has been added; and as its circulation will not be confined to the Island there can be no doubt, whatever, it will have, as designed by the publishers, the tendency of bringing the advantages of the Province into more prominent notice. Very great care has been taken to render the work accurate in all its details, and it is confidently believed that it will be found not only reliable, but useful to all classes of the community.

To the Press, and gentlemen in various parts of the Island who have kindly furnished the compiler with many items of information we are deeply indebted—to the professional and business men, including farmers, who have liberally supported our undertaking, we beg to present our grateful acknowledgements.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The original name of this Province was the Isle of St. Jean, or St. John's Island. Its history may be regarded as embracing two important periods, viz., from its discovery by Europeans till its cession to Great Britain in 1763 ; and from that time to the present.

Historians agree that the date and peculiar circumstances in which it was first seen by Europeans are rapt up in uncertainty. We know, however, from authentic records that John Cabot, a native of Venice, was engaged and empowered by Henry VII. to explore what was then called the New World. Cabot, and his three sons, who had received the necessary authority to engage in their arduous undertaking, commenced their labors at once by proceeding on their voyage of discovery. Sebastian, one of John Cabot's sons, who was born in England, and celebrated for his daring enterprise and nautical experience, was one of the little band of explorers. He was considered second to none as a navigator, and well adapted for the important work to which he was called. The pioneer ship which was to carry the explorers to the scene of operations was called the "Matthew," and left the port of Bristol, England, in May 1497. On the 24th day of the following March (St. John's day, after which Saint, very likely, the Island was named), to the great joy of the explorers, they sighted land. Unluckily, few particulars of this voyage are extant, and it is involved in doubt whether the land first discovered was the coast of Newfoundland or Labrador. Having spent considerable time on the shore of Newfoundland, Cabot returned to England in order to make more complete preparations for the great work in which he was engaged. In 1498 we find a new expedition was fitted out and Sebastian Cabot, before named, had the command.

A Portuguese Navigator, named Cortereal, found his way across the North Atlantic, and explored various portions of Newfoundland. While Cabot was still engaged exploring North and South, a Florentine, named Verraganni, employed by France, in 1524, visited and examined various portions of the Atlantic coast of North America and, agreeably with his orders, claimed the newly discovered country for his King. In 1534 another Frenchman, named Cartier, found his way into the Gulf, who named the Baie des Chaleux and many portions of what are now known as the Maritime Provinces. Very many years passed away before anything of importance had been done, but it appears, from the best authority that France, no doubt fired by the example of England, was resolved to have possessions in the Western World, and for seven years, that is from 1603 to 1610, many parts of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Canada, were explored, and settlements formed. This immense territory which was first settled by the French was, appropriately, named New France. Another French name stands prominently in history as one of the most skilful explorers who was engaged in founding these early settlements, is Champlain, who, in 1608, was the honored founder of Quebec. He is associated with this Island inasmuch as he is the reputed author of its original name, the Isle of St. Jean. Of course, this is a matter of uncertainty, and must be taken for what it is worth. Application was made to the Government of Canada, in 1603, by a Captain Doublet, for a grant of the Islands in the Gulf, in order to establish a fishery on an extensive scale. His application succeeded, and this Island—the Magdalen Islands, and the rocky islets to the north of them, were under his control, or the control of his friends, for nearly forty years. In order to have places of habitation when prosecuting their work at the various fishing stations temporary cabins were erected, but without the slightest intention of settling the Island or establishing permanent homes. The fishermen repaired thither in the Spring to follow their primitive calling, and when Fall returned the Island was left to its original inhabitants—the Indians. For more than two centuries after its discovery by Cabot this beautiful “Gem of the Ocean” remained in its primeval state; in fact, it seemed too diminutive and unimportant to attract serious attention. This appears strange when we picture its original condition. An area of more than two thousand square miles of solid ground in the midst of the sea covered by magnificent trees from its centre to its circumference—birch, beech, maple, ash, elm, pine, spruce, hemlock, fir, juniper, cedar, poplar, willow and other varieties. Here are mighty rivers pouring in from the majestic ocean, abounding with all manner of fish and fowl waiting to be captured by the fisherman or hunter. Whence all this natural beauty and grandeur—this rich provision for man? Where is the unseen hand who planted these noble and beautiful trees, covered with foliage of verdant hue, or whence came the original seed? Where the omnipotent and all-wise architect who laid the foundations of this massive structure?

But the blessings of civilization were absent. True it is the Indian encampment might be seen, and the wild shout of the Abenaki and Miemac hunters sometimes heard, but no cultivated lands, no comfortable habitations, no refined society, no cheerful homes, no houses of worship; and yet we are slow to believe that there were no true worshippers among the aboriginal inhabitants of this beautiful isle in those early days. The law of common principles implanted by our Creator in the nature of every human being, existed in them in common with all the races, and doubtless many of them acted uprightly in accordance with the glimmering light imparted by those common principles, and therefore were real worshippers.

In process of time as Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Upper Canada were acquiring considerable importance, it could be easily seen that the Isle of St. Jean was gradually attracting attention, and could not remain much longer unoccupied by the advocates of industry and civilization.

After ten years' war with Britain, France, in the early part of 1713, claimed the entire extent of territory now known as British America. She was in undisputed possession of Canada, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton. She had wrenched the chief harbors and settlements out of the hands of the British, but her forts in Nova Scotia had been seized by the New Englanders. By a treaty signed April 11, 1713, at Utrecht, France ceded to Britain Newfoundland and Acadia. After the loss of Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, France still retained Cape Breton and this Island; and now special attention was devoted to their occupation as much from the connection with Canada, as guarding the main highway to it, as from their own intrinsic value. About the year 1715 the permanent settlements began. A few solitary families from Acadia and an occasional emigrant family from Cape Breton settled in some sheltered nook or cove, and there built a log hut or a rudely constructed dwelling of poles and bark, and prepared, by fishing and the cultivation of a small patch of ground, to eke out a subsistence. Their visitors in summer were the fishing boat and the Indian canoe. In winter they dwelt alone except an occasional visit from the Indian hunter or his family. Almost every summer as the fertility of the land became known some additions were made to the population. Still the progress was slow, for in 1728, or thirteen years after the settlement began, there were only sixty families, it is said, on the Island, and it is probable in the beginning of 1745 they did not exceed one hundred and fifty families. In 1752 the whole population of the Island was estimated at 1,354. The sections of the Island at that time most thickly settled were the lands on both sides of Point Prim, the lands about St. Peter's Bay, Savage Harbor and Charlottetown Harbor.

The population of the Island had steadily increased during the next six years, because we find that in 1858 it was estimated at 4,100. Just at this time Louisburg was obliged to surrender to British forces, and one of the articles of capitulation was for the surrender of the Island of St. John, Canada, Cape Breton and this Island were formally ceded to Great Britain in 1763, and was at once placed under the Government of Nova Scotia.

By order of the British Government, the Island was surveyed in 1764 and following years, when Captain Samuel Holland was employed to make the survey. The entire Island was divided into sixty-seven Townships or Lots, each Lot containing 20,000 acres, more or less, and were distributed by lot, in the year 1767, amongst parties having claims upon the Government, upon certain conditions, including the payment of quit rents. Lot sixty-six was reserved for the Crown, and Lots forty and fifty-nine had been promised to parties who had previously improved the land.

The following persons, according to documentary evidence, in London, were the original grantees :—

Thus it will be seen that the three Counties contain fourteen parishes, and it was so arranged that a town lot and royalty were reserved in each county, while each township was to furnish a glebe lot of one hundred acres for a minister of the gospel, and a lot of thirty acres for a school master. The quit-rents were of three rates, six shillings, four shillings, and two shillings annually per hundred acres.

It was expressly stipulated that the grantees were to settle one person for every two hundred acres within ten years from the date of the grant. The settlers were to be Protestants from the parts of Europe not belonging to Great Britain, or persons who had resided in America for two years prior to the date of the grant. This, no doubt was done to discourage emigration from the old country in those early days. It was, however, a very difficult task to perform, and consequently, very few of the grantees were in a position to comply with the conditions of their grants.

The inhabitants of the Island becoming dissatisfied with their connection with Nova Scotia, in 1768 petitioned for a separate Government, and engaged to pay half their quit-rents the following year to meet their expenses. This request was complied with, and within two years afterwards Walter Patterson, Esq., was appointed the first Governor of the Island.

The time stipulated when the grants were made had elapsed, and very little had been done to settle the Island, as we find that only nineteen out of the sixty-seven lots had been even partially settled. In 1781 nine whole and five half townships were sold for the payment of quit-rents. It was found upon investigation in 1797, under the direction of the Provincial Parliament, that twenty-three lots, containing 458,580 acres had not a single family settled on them; twelve other lots, containing 243,000, had only thirty six families. The entire population at this time did not exceed 5000. This state of things very naturally aroused the attention of the people, and caused a good deal of agitation for the escheat of the lands of those proprietors who had not put forth any efforts to comply with the conditions of the grants originally made.

An attempt had been made in 1780 to change the name of the Island to that of New Ireland, and a Bill was passed accordingly, but failed to receive the necessary sanction. Some eighteen years afterwards (1798,) however, a bill was passed in the Provincial Legislature, changing the name from St. John to Prince Edward as a mark of respect to his Royal Highness, Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, father of our beloved Sovereign, and grandsire of Her Royal Highness, Princess Louise, the amiable Consort of our much-esteemed Governor General. This change was carried into effect in 1800, and as the capitals of two neighboring provinces bear its former name, there can be little doubt of its importance and utility.

In the early part of this century the arrears of quit rent were very considerable. Fortunately a liberal arrangement was made for the payment of these arrears. The lots were divided into five classes; the first, those which had the full number of settlers were to pay only four years' quit-rent; the second class, those having only half the required number of settlers were to pay five years' quit-rent; the third class, those having less than a half and more than a fourth of the required population were to pay nine years' quit-rent; the fourth class, those which had less than a fourth of the required number of settlers were to pay twelve years' quit rent. The fifth class included those lots or townships that were wholly unsettled; fifteen years' quit rent were required in their case in lieu of all arrears. This sum was less than half the amount due by this class. This arrangement had an excellent effect on the prosperity of the Island as was soon seen in its increased population and numerous other advantages. Notwithstanding this liberality on the part of the home authorities, it appears marvellous that some were found who could not see their way to avail themselves of its benefits; hence we find that judgments were obtained against ten townships, five half-townships and one third of a township. It appears, however, that the non-paying proprietors had some influence with the government as the Act under which the lands were seized did not receive the Royal Assent.

The Earl of Selkirk in 1803, settled about 800 Highlanders on his lands, who very soon, by hard work, wearisome days and nights, and numerous privations, managed to make a home for themselves in the wilderness. Some of those heroes are still living, and can give graphic pictures of their early struggles. Some time ago the writer had the pleasure of being the guest of one of those pioneer veterans, Roderick Campbell, Esq., of Point Prim, who landed when a boy on the Island, in the ship "Polly," more than seventy-six years ago. "Bloomfield" is the name of his pretty homestead. and he and his worthy companion are still enjoying good health, and surrounded by every comfort on their well-cultivated but dearly-earned farm, on the beautiful banks of Point Prim. Charlottetown during the American Revolutionary War was plundered by two American vessels, but by order of General Washington, both prisoners and plunder were at once given up. Charles Douglas Smith was sent to the Island as Governor in 1813. He called the House of Assembly together, on the 15th of November of that year, and after the House had been in Session for two months, His Honor adopted the very strange course of dismissing the House, thinking doubtless that ample time had been spent in their deliberations. But still more remarkable, this exalted official deemed it right not to summon another Assembly for nearly four years. Unluckily the differences between the Governor and the New Houses successively elected, continued to increase in bitterness, until ultimately the Assembly framed an address, expressing dissatisfaction with the conduct of the Governor. It was with some difficulty, forwarded to England, and in due time (1824) he was recalled. Governor Smith was succeeded by Colonel Ready a gentleman of amiable disposition and kindly bearing, who soon won the esteem of the people, and who was well qualified to discharge the important duties of his office. During the time of Governor Ready's Administration a census was taken and it was found that in 1827, the population had increased to 23,266. Public improvements were the legitimate results.

A movement of considerable moment to one part of Her Majesty's subjects was carried in 1830, viz., an act was passed freeing Roman Catholics from all civil and political disabilities. In six years afterwards (1836) the population had increased to 32,292—an addition of more than 9,000 in a comparatively short time, a great number of whom were English, Scotch, and Irish emigrants.

We cannot marvel, as the people of the Island became educated and enlightend an agitation commenced in 1834 to abolish the old system and establish a responsible government. For sixteen long years the old state of things continued, until the patience of the people was nearly exhausted. In 1851, however, his honor, the Governor, made the pleasing announcement to the House of Assembly that he had been empowered to introduce responsible government on condition that compensation be allowed to some retiring officers. This condition was readily complied with, and the Executive resigned on the 23rd of April. The new Administration having the support and confidence of the majority of the Assembly was gazetted two days afterwards. Subsequently acts of very great importance were passed, viz: those establishing a uniform rate of postage — assimilation of the currency — free education — and in 1853 an act was passed which conferred universal suffrage on the people.

In 1857 an agitation commenced to introduce the Bible into schools, as a book for daily use, which met with considerable opposition, but in 1860 the legislature passed an act declaring the introduction of the Bible into all public schools the law of the land.

In 1854, what was called the Worrell Estate, which contained eighty-one thousand, three hundred, and three acres, was purchased by the Government for the sum of twenty-four thousand, one hundred pounds. In 1860, the lands of the earl of Selkirk, comprising sixty-two thousand and fifty-nine acres, were likewise sold to the Government for the very moderate sum of £6,586, sterling. Immediately afterwards a commission was appointed to enquire into the subjects of dispute with the object of converting, on equitable conditions, the leaseholds of the entire Island into freeholds. To this end three commissioners were appointed—the Hon. J. H. Gray as the representative of the crown—the Hon. Joseph Howe as representative of the tenants and Mr. John W. Ritchie for the proprietors. “The commission collected a great deal of evidence, and in August, 1861, made a report, of which the principal points are as follows:—1. Lenox Island was to be ceded to the Indians. 2. The claims of the Acadians, or French, were to be totally over-ruled. 3. The claims of descendents of U. E. loyalists to certain lands were recommended to the special consideration of the Government. 4. Escheat of the lands of proprietors was declared by the commissioners to be impracticable. 5. As to quit-rents, no arrears to be recoverable, and no accruing quit-rent to be claimed as long as the land tax was imposed. 6. The fishing restrictions were abolished.” Unluckily all the labor of this commission appears to have been lost, as we find His Grace, the Duke of Newcastle, addressing the Lieutenant Governor of the Island, thus: “I must instruct you, therefore, however unwilling to treat the commissioners award only as an expression of opinion which, however valuable as such, cannot be made legally binding on the parties concerned.” The land question, which had been a source of trouble for the greater part of a century, in 1875 was practically settled by an act which provided that the original proprietors be compelled to part with their properties on equitable terms, thus giving an opportunity to tenants to become free-holders—the average price of whose farms was under two dollars per acre, with the option of paying by instalments, within ten years.

CLIMATE.

The Island is situated in the centre of the Temperate Zone, and, consequently, has a climate that is neither extremely cold nor hot. Here, we cannot do better than quote Captain Holland, who first surveyed the province. “The time of the setting in of the frost in Winter and its breaking up in the Spring is very uncertain. In general it is observed that about October there usually begins to be frost morning and evening, which gradually increases in severity till about the middle of December, when it becomes extremely sharp. At this time North-west winds, with small sleet, seldom fails. In a little time the rivers on the Island are frozen up, and even the sea, some distance from the land. The ice soon becomes safe to travel on, as it is, at least, from twenty-two to thirty inches thick. The snow upon the ground and in the woods is often a surprising depth, and it is impossible to travel except on snow shoes. The Acadians have now recourse to little cabins or huts in the woods, where they are screened from the violence of the weather, and at the same time have the convenience of wood for fuel. Here they live on the fish they have cured in the Summer, and game, which they frequently kill, as hares and partridges, lynxes, or wild cats, otters, martins or musk rats — none of which they refuse to eat, as necessity presses them. In the Spring the rivers seldom break up till April, and snow is not entirely off the ground until the middle of May. It ought to be observed that as St. John is, fortunately, not troubled with fogs, as are the neighboring Islands of Cape Breton and Newfoundland, neither has it so settled and constant a climate as (Upper) Canada. Here are frequent changes of weather as rain, snow, hail, and hard frost." Such is the description given by Captain, who afterwards became Major Holland. It is, however, an admitted fact that the climate is conducive to health and longevity, and many of the diseases so prevalent in other countries never touch our shores. It appears remarkable that Cholera morbus which has swept away tens of thousands from almost every part of the world, has never been permitted to visit this Island. The writer some time ago visited Montague Bridge, in the vicinity of which he saw a gentleman working actively in his own hay field, who from the vigor which he exhibited, might have been a man in middle life, whereas, from information we had received, he had seen ninety-six summers; and this is not a solitary case. but many such cases are scattered over the entire province. So much then for the healthfulness of the climate.

AGRICULTURE.

One million three hundred and sixty-five thousand four hundred, is said to be the number of acres in this "beautiful Isle of the sea." Few places, considering everything, its advantages and disadvantages, are better adapted for profitable farming. It is a singular fact that when the Island was under French rule, that large quantities of grain were grown, and exported to their fortresses at Louisburg and Quebec, so that it was appropriately called the "Garden of North America. During the last two or three decades, very great progress has been made in this department of industry. Land is being cultivated on better principles, and the product of oats, potatoes, and other departments of farm produce have been enormous, as seen by the exports of 1878. The harvest of 1879 has been still more abundant, and the wheat crop especially is finer than any preceding year. The unusually large quantity of rain which fell in the latter end of August, and beginning of September, militated seriously against the saving of this year's crop. As a rule we here find first class crops of wheat, oats, barley and rye, all of excellent quality, especially the oat crop. Doubtless as time rolls on, greater attention will be devoted to the growth of wheat, and other crops which are not so exhausting to the land.

The soil appears to be specially adapted for the growth of beet root, which in other countries has been so profitable. In France for example, in the year ending September, 1878, the enormous quantity of 800,000,000 pounds of sugar was made from beet-root in that country. There are five hundred and one manufactories, all of which are said to be successful. Why not make an effort to establish one or more on the Island? It should be remembered, that the capital required for an enterprise of the kind, would be comparatively small; and if it should prove remunerative, and we can see no earthly reason why it should not pay here just as well as in France, it would be an immense blessing to the entire community.

Potatoes are famed for their excellent quality, hence the demand for them in the other Provinces, the States and elsewhere. Turnips, mangolds, and all kinds of culinary vegetables grow to perfection. The improvement which has taken place in the stock within the past twenty years, all over the Province, has been marvellous; and greater attention will unquestionably be given to this subject, especially when it is found, that the better the breed, the more profitable the stock.

In Prince Edward Island no man should be more comfortable and happy than the industrious farmer. He is comparatively independent, having obtained his freehold at a nominal price. He is surrounded with numberless blessings flowing from land and sea. He lives in a salubrious climate, seldom visited by malignant diseases, or unhealthy fogs. He never has to touch his hat to the fastidious customer, but merely to do with energy and life his every day duty trusting his best benefactor for sunshine and showers. And, although the winter is somewhat long and tedious, he can appropriately use the following truthful lines:

"Let the wealthy and great,
Roll in splendour and state,
I envy it not! I declare it!
I eat my own lamb,
My chicken and ham,
I shear my own fleece and I wear it.

I have lawns, I have bowers,
I have fruits I have flowers,
The lark is my morning alarmer.
So jolly boys now
Here's God speed the plough,
[Long life and success to the farmer."

THE FISHING INDUSTRY.

The waters of the Island abound with fish of various kinds, including flounders, mackerel, oysters, salmon, trout, and eels—the coast with cod and herring—immense quantities are annually exported, and a large amount of money is brought into the Province by this branch of industry. One of the most important sources of profit has been the establishment of lobster factories, in many districts, and the fish being abundant and of superior quality, the business has become large and lucrative. Many persons are employed in this valuable line of industry—fishermen, packers, tinsmiths, laborers, and a host of young girls who can the delicate article and prepare it for exportation. It then finds its way to the best markets, England, France, and the United States, where remunerative prices are readily obtained. Our limited space will not allow us to dwell at length upon this subject, but we may observe that the same remarks apply to other descriptions of fish, as that to which we have particularly referred. One thing is certain, that with skill, energy, and ordinary industry the waters of this famous Province will yield incalculable wealth.

SHIP BUILDING.

During the past few years very little progress has been made in this branch of industry. The depression which has marked every country and almost every line of business especially shipbuilding, has been felt here more or less, since the monetary panic of 1873. To give the reader some idea of the extent of this industry, it may be observed that in 1847 no fewer than 96 vessels of various sizes, with an aggregate tonnage of 18,445, valued at $553,350 were built in this province. There are some symptoms of life in this particular branch noticeable in a few places, but small compared with the business done in former years.

POPULATION.

Since the commencement of this century the population has gradually increased. When the colony became a British possession as will be seen by the preceding pages, the number of inhabitants did not reach 5000. In 1871 no fewer than 94,021 was the aggregate number, and when the census will be taken in 1881, there can be no doubt whatever it will have increased to more than 100,000.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES.

On Thursday, 10th August, 1860, the Island was visited by the above distinguished personage. Governor Dundas, in the name of the colonists welcomed His Royal Highness to the Island. The way from the landing to the carriage provided for the Royal party was lined by a guard of honor comprising a detachment of the 62nd Regiment and a body of Volunteers. The procession then formed and marched through four magnificent arches erected at the public expense in various parts of the City. The pleasing performance of the children, consisting of 1000 voices, joined in singing the National Anthem, with sweet effect. The melodious strains of so many innocent little ones were much appreciated, and appeared to make a deep impression upon the young Prince. In the Colonial Building His Royal Highness was presented with addresses by the Executive Council, and Corporation of the City, where he made suitable replies. A Ball was held in the evening, which was attended by a brilliant assemblage, and His Royal Highness took a prominent part in the festivities of the occasion. The Prince evidently appreciated the reception which he had received from so many loyal Islanders, and prior to leaving, on Saturday the 12th of August, he handed a donation of £150 to be disposed of by the Lieutenant Governor, for charitable purposes.

RAILWAY COMMUNICATION.

From Parliamentary records we find that on the 3rd of April, 1871, the Hon. James C. Pope submitted a resolution to the House of Assembly, which was seconded by the Hon. Mr. Brecken, that in order to facilitate the trade and commerce of the Island and to develop its numerous resources that a line of Railway be constructed and maintained. "It was, therefore, proposed that a Bill authorizing the Government to undertake the construction of a Railway to extend from Cascumpec to Georgetown, touching at Summerside and Charlottetown, and also branches to Souris and Tignish, at a cost not exceeding five thousand pounds currency per mile, including all the necessary appliances suitable for a good Railroad, provided that the contractors would accept in payment the debentures of Prince Edward Island." The Hon. Mr. Sinclair proposed an amendment condemnatory of this resolution on the ground that a general election of both branches of the Legislature had taken place; that the question of constructing a Railway was not then properly before the country, and that two petitions were before the House against the proposed undertaking and none in its favor. On a division, Mr. Pope's resolution was carried by seventeen to eleven votes. A committee consisting of the Hon. Mr. Pope, the Hon. Mr. Howlan, the Hon. the Attorney General, the Honorable Mr. Perry and Mr. Richards, was then appointed to prepare and bring in a bill in accordance with the resolution passed by the Assembly. The bill was immediately presented, read a first time and committed to a committee of the whole House, Mr. Beer being chairman. On the main question being put the measure was approved by eighteen to eleven. The report of the committee was then received, and the bill engrossed under the title of "An Act to authorize the construction of a Railway through Prince Edward Island." In two short days from its introduction this important bill, fraught with so many advantages to the Island, received the sanction of the Assembly. In the month of April, 1875, the railway was opened, and although its returns, after four years' operations, may not have come up to the expectations of its originators, yet it should be remembered the years in which it has been in operation have been marked by serious depression and, therefore, due allowance should be made. Let us hope that the near future may be crowned with greater success, and in any case let us ask ourselves the question, Would we be willing to dispense with this immense public convenience? With judicious management and strict frugality the line will, no doubt, ultimately pay. The first Manager and Superintendent was William McKechnie, Esq. The present Manager and Engineer is Alexander McNabb, Esq.

CONFEDERATION.

The Union of the British North American Provinces was a subject which occupied the attention of the people for many years. Prince Edward Island, however, strenuously opposed its association with the other provinces in the beginning. The Home Government evidently desired that all should enter Confederation, as it was believed that such union would increase the strength and prosperity of the whole. The subject was fully discussed in 1864 and following years. Conferences were held in the various provinces, and the opposition from time to time appeared to wax warmer and warmer; but time, the great reconciler of all things, brought about a change, we hope for the better, and on the first of July, 1873, Prince Edward Island was united to the already confederated provinces of British North America. It may not be out of place here to name the chief conditions on which the union took place. "That the Island," says Campbell, "should on entering the Union be entitled to incur a debt equal to $50 a head of its population, as shown by the census returns of 1871, that is to say, four millions, seven hundred and one thousand and fifty dollars; that the Island not having incurred debts equal to the sum just mentioned should be entitled to receive by half yearly payments in advance from the General Government interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on the difference from time to time between the actual amount of its indebtedness and the amount of indebtedness authorized; that as the Government of Prince Edward Island held no lands from the Crown, and consequently enjoyed no revenue from that source for the construction and maintenance of Public Works, the Dominion Government should pay by half yearly instalments in advance, to the Government of Prince Edward Island, forty-five thousand dollars yearly less five per cent upon any sum not exceeding eight hundred thousand dollars which the Dominion Government might advance to the Prince Edward Island Government for the purchase of land now held by large proprietors; that in consideration of the transfer to the Parliament of Canada of the powers of taxation, the following sums should be paid yearly by Canada to Prince Edward Island for the support of the Government and Legislature, that is to say, thirty thousand dollars and an annual grant equal to eighty cents per head of its population as shown by the census returns of 1871, namely, ninety four thousand and twenty one, both by half-yearly payments in advance. Such grants of eighty cents per head to be augmented in proportion to such increase of population of the Island as might be shown by each decennial census until the population amounted to four hundred thousand, at which rate such grant should thereafter remain—it being understood that the next census be taken in 1881. The Dominion likewise assumed all the charges for the following services. The salary of the Lieutenant Governor, the salaries of the Judges of the superior courts, the charges in respect to the department of customs, the postal department, the protection of the fisheries, the provision for the militia, the light-houses, ship-wrecked crews, quarantine and marine hospitals, the geological survey, and the penitentiary." The Dominion Government also assumed the railway which was then under contract.

THE VICE-REGAL VISIT

Thursday, the 14th August, 1879, was marked by events of no ordinary interest to the inhabitants of Prince Edward Island. His Excellency the Governor General and Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise visited our shores and, although the weather was not so favorable as could have been desired, the auspicious event was characterized by great rejoicings. The city was all alive at an early hour, and seldom so large a crowd has been seen within its limits. The distinguished visitors, escorted by Admiral Inglefield and members of their Suite, landed shortly after mid-day, and on their ascending the stairway three rousing cheers rent the air. W. E. Dawson, Esq., Mayor of the City presented an appropriate Address on behalf of the Corporation, which was suitably replied to by His Excellency. A guard of honor was in attendance, and a procession, composed of the principal officials, gentry, various societies, in their regalia, and others, was formed, who marched through the principal streets, passing under the handsome arches which had been erected for the occasion. Having halted at the Provincial buildings an interesting scene presented itself to the Vice-Regal party. More than one thousand children, from the various schools, occupied two stands which had been constructed for the purpose, who sweetly sang "God Save the Queen." The Royal visitors alighted from their carriages and proceeded to the balcony of the building where W. R. Watson, Esq., High Sheriff of Queen's County, read a suitable address, to which the Marquis appropriately replied. The children then sang "Hurrah for Canada," in fine style. The Princess, who looked pale, but beautiful and interesting, appeared to be much pleased with the performances of the juvenile gathering. After a short time the Royal party returned to the Druid, where they remained until the following morning. The annual festival of the Caledonia Club was held in a field near St. Peter's Road, on Friday, and was visited by the Marquis in the morning who, doubtless, felt interested in this famous Scottish gathering. In the afternoon Her Royal Highness honored the grounds with her presence, and subsequently attended a Naval Review which was held in a spacious piece of ground at the entrance of Victoria Park. In the evening Lieut. Governor Haviland entertained the Vice-Regal party at dinner. The Drawing Room, afterwards, was one of the attractive features of the occasion. The Governor General and Princess arrived shortly before 10 o'clock, immediately after which the presentations commenced. About two hundred and twenty-five ladies and gentlemen had the honor of being presented — the reception not lasting more than half an hour. Government House, which has recently undergone a thorough renovation, was beautifully illuminated, and presented a brilliant and imposing appearance. The Marquis was dressed in a rich Windsor uniform, and the Princess wore a satin striped chalet princess robe, pointed bodice, and white silk petticoat; her head dress was composed of daisies with gold and silver leaves, her jewelry consisted of three gold bracelets and necklace set with diamonds, and gold locket with monogram in diamonds.

In the evening, while the reception was going on, and subsequently, there was a torch light procession, and the City was brilliantly illuminated—never, it is said, was there such a display of heartfelt loyalty. The decorations were superb, and indicative of good taste, while everything, notwithstanding the enthusiasm of the multitude, passed off quietly, without a solitary accident. On Saturday morning, accompanied by a number of gentlemen, the Marquis made an excursion to the the Sea-Side — Rustico — where an excellent lunch was provided in a pretty pavillion, constructed for the purpose, by Messrs. John Newson & Co., of the Sea-Side Hotel. The only draw back and disappointment felt here was the absence of one who, evidently, was the centre of attraction in the entire proceedings—the daughter of our beloved Queen—who, unluckily, was slightly indisposed. The Marquis embarked in the evening and the Druid, escorted by three Ships of War, left our shores the following morning. In bidding adieu to this “sea girt Isle” the Royal visitors carry with them the fervent aspirations of a loyal people for their continued safety and happiness.

GOVERNORS.

The Governors of Prince Edward Island as a separate Province were:

Walter Patterson,	1770.
Lieut. Gen. Edmund Fanning,	1786.
Col. J. F. W. DesBarres,	1805.
Charles Douglas Smith,	1813.
Col. John Ready,	1824.
Sir Aretas W. Young,	1831.
Sir John Harvey,	1836.
Sir Charles Augustus Fitzroy,	1837.
Sir Henry Vere Huntley,	1841.
Sir Donald Campbell,	1847.
Sir Alexander Bannerman,	1851.
Sir Dominick Daly,	1854.
George Dundas,	1859.
W. C. F. Robinson,	1870.
Sir Robert Hodgson,	1874.
T. H. Haviland,	1879.

We cannot do better, in closing our necessarily brief sketch of the Province, than to introduce to our readers the well-written letter which some time ago appeared in a Canadian paper, from the pen of J. H. B. The writer is evidently smitten with the charms of this beautiful "Isle of the Sea," and which we need hardly say we fully endorse:—

SUMMER HOLIDAYS IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

How is it that Canadians, as a rule, are so little acquainted with the fairest Province of their Dominion? Naturally, the watering place of Canada, why is not Prince Edward Island more of a summer resort? True, it is no fashionable watering place, and affords few of the refined luxuries of larger cities; but on a quiet scale the hotel accommodations are all that can be desired, and, what is better, everywhere along the sea coast the comfortable farm house of a hospitable people are always open to welcome summer visitors. Is economy a consideration? Then you may do the round trip from Ottawa to Summerside for less than $30, and your board need not exceed $4 per week.

Is a sea voyage an object? Then take the Miramichi at Quebec, for a three day's sail down the Gulf. You will call it the pleasantest trip of your life. There is little danger of seasickness at this season of the year. There is often scarcely a ripple on the water as you skirt the wild, rugged coast line of Gaspé, or anchor under the shadow of that mysterious Perce rock. About July or August you will long to get away from the city's dust and oppressive heat. Let me direct you to a cool retreat, where neither dust or heat obtrude; where no fog obscures the bright atmosphere and sky; where the pleasant warmth of the day alternates with the delightful coolness of the evening; where you can walk or labor with little fatigue, and you sleep so soundly that even an uneasy conscience does not disturb your slumber.

Are you in need of mental rest? Here you will find it unbroken and unalloyed. Located in some cozy farm house along the coast, miles and miles away from the uneasy civilization of cities, you can think as little as you please, and your head can rest in peace. With some boon companion to make society for you, and with your favorite novel in your hand, you can snatch up a mat from the floor and a pillow from the sofa, sally forth out of the house under the great shade trees on the lawn, then lay down on your back and talk or read—with the ripple of the poplars overhead, and the gentle wind breathing its restfulness over your face. This is peaceful luxury. Here you can read or sleep or dream, with no anxious care whether Letellier be dismissed or the Zulu war favorably terminated, or how otherwise the outside world may wag. At night, in some of the vallies of the interior, there is a peculiar stillness that is of itself refreshing to the weary mind. Bordered and enclosed as these vales often are by dark walls of stately spruce—the quietness of nature unbroken by any sound save perhaps the liquid gurgle of a neighboring brook, and which by contrast only intensifies the stillness—their very quietness seems to creep over and into your spirits as you ramble up the glens, till the calm restfulness of nature, by a sort of sympathy, is absorbed and becomes your own. A few weeks of such holidays tend to render sluggish the current of your thought, and any sort of mental labor becomes a bore. Notice the effect when you return to city life. It takes you days after you return before the mind thoroughly awakens from its long rest to its wonted activity.

Do you appreciate natural scenery? Then nothing grand or majestic is presented here, but every part of the Island is, nevertheless, quietly, yet really beautiful. Sometimes perhaps, as seen in the cultivated fields, stretching far up the hillside, with the wind making wavelets in the ripening grain—sometimes as seen in the roads—red, clean and winding—skirted now and then by a vigorous undergrowth of fern, and threading their course through long avenues of lofty firs—sometimes, as in the delightful landscape of woodland and sheltered vales, fertile fields and comfortable homesteads—sometimes in the glorious sunset, on the Straits of Northumberland, with the flood of golden sunlight on the gently-heaving sea, with the sails of the passing vessels bathed in the mellow rays, and the distant shore of New Brunswick framing the picture.

Are you fond of sea-bathing? Then come here. You will find it to your taste—either cold as the Atlantic at the points and bluffs, or deep in the bays, where the tide comes in for miles over the sand bars, the water embraces you with a warmth that is perfectly luxurious. The shores are everywhere easy of access. The sand beach is red, smooth, and firm, and so clean is it, and so inspiring the sea breeze that blows in over it, that many an older man than you has been tempted and enabled to cast aside, for a brief space, the burden of his years, and to become a child again. In his bare feet he runs and skips like a school boy, over the sand or through the shallow pools between the bars—now tossing up his hat in very glee—now drawing a long breath of the invigorating air—now chasing the receding wave far out, or sporting with its crest as it suddenly returns and rushes at him in its mimic anger.

Do you love boating? Here it is to be enjoyed in all its variety. Along the coast you may have the steady freshening sea breeze that stirs up the white caps, and tosses up the spray over your bows and bends your masts till the gunwhale is even with the water's-edge, while your gallant little boat flies onward like the wind. Or, in the bays you may have your quiet sail, with only a gentle ruffle on the surface filled, and with the lazy liquid chopping of the wavelets on the side of the boat, almost lulling you to sleep. If you happen to feel sentimental — and such accidents are said to be quite frequent on the Island—then take your fair companion out for a row along the coast. Of course, the moon must be at full, the night must be calm and clear, and all the better if it be the calm just after the storm. Your little boat will then ride up and down so gently on the swell of the wave and the dancing moonbeams will be on the waters all around you, the dark reddish shadowy outline of the coast will bound your view; while from the shore and the caves, and apparently from the very depths below you, there will come floating around you the music of the sea — rich, mellow, murmuring music — as if old Neptune were hushing the waves to sleep with one of his faintest yet sweetest melodies. Of course, you can not but see the charms of external nature reflected in the eye, and hear them echoed from the voice of the fair one by your side. Can you tell me anything, this side of heaven, nearer paradise?

Do you care for shooting? In August, black duck, snipe and plover abound. Gulls are always plentiful but you wont appreciate their flesh at first or perhaps at last. Amateurs find them tough and fishy. Did you ever amuse yourself by peppering away with a shot gun at a flock of gulls till your shoulder was sore with the recoil, and till your bump of destructiveness even, recoiled at the dreadful slaughter? Shoot one and then toss it high up into the air. The whole flock from far and near will collect over your head, sail around their dead companion and survey it, then peer down at you, as if prompted by insane curiosity, and scream. One by one they topple to your feet at the report of your fowling piece, but the foolish birds will never learn a lesson—never learn to grow wary of their deadliest enemy. How gullible the poor things are!

Do you like fishing? Ah, now I see by the light in your eye that I have struck a chord of sympathy. Then let me tell you of a place where lobsters, oysters, codfish and mackerel in vast numbers abound. The mackerel fishing you will like best when they bite well. You will be in raptures with it when you fish with four lines at a time, when a shoal of mackerel strikes your bait, and when you feel the sharp twinge of the bite at the end of each line, when you are distressed or undecided as to which mackerel you will pull first, and when you madly, but vainly, endeavor to haul in all four lines over the side of the boat at once. You may fish lobsters with your toes, or hook them with a gaff from under the rock. Some people find it hard on the toes. You fish oysters out of a boat with tongs, or wade for them at low tide. Some prefer to take them with a little pepper and salt on the spot. Oysters, they say, are more portable in bulk, and the shells are so inconvenient to carry. But the trout fishing deserves special mention. every stream and inlet here, accessible from the sea abounds with silver speckled salt water trout. Fancy during last month in two days' fishing at North Lake, near Souris, to catch seven hundred beautiful fish, each weighing from one half to one and one half pounds, and imagine fishing with three fly hooks on your casting line, and dozens of times landing three of these fine trout at a time. This is sport indeed. So voraciously do they bite at the evening catch that you find no time to whisk off those horrible flies that take a mean advantage of your absorbing vocation to make love to your neck and ears. Your arm at length becomes tired with the constant strain at the end of your line, and you give up and sit down to rest with a sort of feeling of disgust at your good luck. As your eye lights on the extent of your catch, you begin to wonder how you are to get so many fish home, and how you are to distribute them when you get there.

I cannot too highly recommend the Island to Canadians for their summer holidays. From personal observations of many parts of America and Europe, I may say, there are few places that equal it in the fertility of its soil, in the richness of its verdure, in the beauty and variety of its scenery, in its comfortable houses, and in its people, at once independent, hospitable and intelligent. There is no spot where you can find such sweet rest for the sole of your foot, or where such varied and healthful recreations await you. Surely it is much better for you to give a wide berth to Saratoga, Orchard Beach, and other weary fashionable resorts, and to return from your month's vacation on the Island with a mind sweetly refreshed, with ten pounds added to your weight in the community, with elasticity in your footstep, and with health beaming out of every well-rounded feature of your tawny countenance,

CHARLOTTETOWN.

The City of Charlottetown is the Capital of the Province situated in the parish of Charlotte, Queen's County, on rising ground, with a Southern aspect. Its location is on the North side of the East River, near its junction with the North and West Rivers, and has a capacious harbor. The original design of the plan, or site, is of a modern character, although founded more than a century ago, it being well laid out, the streets cross each other at right angles and many of them are about one hundred feet wide. The greater part of the buildings are constructed of wood except those built on the principal streets many of which are stone or brick. The City is lighted with gas, and it is to be hoped that in the near future it may be supplied with abundance of water. The present system has, doubtless, answered its purpose moderately well, but when the population shall have increased it will, for sanitary and other reasons, be absolutely necessary that water works be established, though the supply may have to be conveyed a considerable distance. The public buildings do honor to the Island—they consist of the Colonial Building, which is a massive structure, built of Nova Scotia free stone at a cost of $85,000,—in which are offices connected with various departments of the Government. The Post Office, Custom House, Government Savings Bank, and Inland Revenue Offices, occupy another substantial and spacious building. The Provincial Building, an elegant brick edifice on a line with the others, is used as Court rooms, and it certainly is the most modern of this magnificent group of public buildings. There is, likewise, an excellent Market House with public hall, Gaol, Drill Shed, Masonic, Odd Fellows, Temperance, and other halls. The Church and School accommodations cannot be surpassed in any part of the Dominion. There are twelve churches, all of which will be found in the following pages with the names of their respective pastors. There are three handsome and commodious public schools, Prince of Wales College, Normal School, and some private educational establishments. Government House is pleasantly situated on the margin of the West River, beautifully surrounded with trees and extensive grounds. There are many other buildings in the City worthy of notice, including the Bishop's Palace, St. Dunstan's College, Convent De Notre Dame, but the most costly and magnificent structure in the Province is the Lunatic Asylum, recently erected at Falconwood, near the City, at a cost of $100,000, and which is provided with every improvement for the comfort and convenience of its inmates.

Charlottetown has a pretty Park, which has been appropriately named Victoria, and which, as a place of recreation is frequently visited, not only by natives but by strangers visiting the "Pearl of the Northern Seas." Steamers, when the navigation is open regularly ply between the Island and England, Halifax, Montreal, Pictou, Boston, Shediac, and elsewhere. A ferry steamer crosses every half hour to Southport. The means of communication in winter between the Island and New Brunswick are difficult, having to be accomplished in small boats from Cape Traverse to Cape Tormentine, a distance of nine miles. The steamer Northern Light has been constructed expressly for the purpose of plying between the Island and Nova Scotia in winter, and it is therefore anticipated that henceforth we shall have regular steam communication. The Anglo American Telegraph Company have a station here and control the wires over the entire Province. The Submarine Cable crosses at Cape Traverse, before named. Mail daily in summer. Population about 12,000.

TOBACCO.

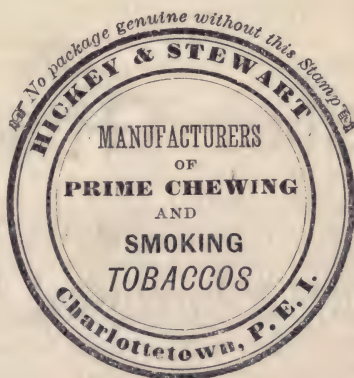

While thanking the public for the Liberal Patronage extended to us during the past ten years, we beg leave to call their attention to our improved facilities for supplying their demands :—

Our terms are liberal and we sell only by wholesale.

P. E. Island Twist.

Home Rule.

Our Tobacco is 20 per cent better than any other offered in the market. We are the only House in the Province that makes the manufacturing of Tobacco a speciality

Bright Solace, 12s.
We manufacture from pure Virginia Leaf, imported direct from the Plantations.
We sell cheaper than any House in the trade.

Old White Hat.

We guarantee satisfaction.

Bright Solace, 10s.

Having greatly improved and increased our machinery, we are in a better position than ever to furnish the trade with an article of tobacco superior to anything heretofore offered.

Fine Cut Virginia tobacco at Apothecaries Hall, Ch'town

GRAND DIET OF WORMS

DISSOLVED BY

WATSON'S SCHOLEDION.

Which is offered to the public as a perfectly safe, pleasant and efficacious EXPELLER of WORMS from the human system.

As this preparation contains no mineral ingredients, the administration of it to young children is not followed by the dangerous, and—in many cases—fatal consequences resulting from the use of many of the Vermifuges at present before the public.

A compliance with the directions accompanying this, will prove that it deserves the character claimed for it above, while the promptness and painless character of its action render it the cheapest and safest remedy for worms hitherto discovered.

eradicates the dandruff more easily and safely than combs. In sickness, alarm, trouble, study, &c., all injury to the hair may be prevented by this inestimable article,

In fine, as adding strength, affording nourishment, exciting to a luxurious growth, and brilliantly ornamenting and embellishing the hair, the inventor avers, without the fear of contradiction, that the ROSEMARY HAIR WASH is not to be surpassed by any article in the world.

ANTIBILIOUS, OR FAMILY PILLS.

For Disorders of the Stomach and Bowels, Giddiness, Sick Head-ache, &c.

These pills are strongly recommended as one of the best medicines for bilious complaints, viscid concretions, disorders of the stomach and bowels, giddiness, free living, &c., and are an excellent remedy for Gout and Rheumatism. They will prove so desirable a Family Medicine for both sexes, that the proprietor can offer them with full assurance of success, in every complaint for which they are recommended.

Clove Anodyne, for the Cure of Tooth-Ache,

One of the most pleasant and best remedies ever offered to the public, as a sure cure for the tooth-ache. The original receipt was handed to the proprietor by an eminent dentist, who has proved its efficacy for many years

These MEDICINES, &c., are prepared and sold at the

“ CITY DRUG STORE, ”

Victoria Building, 33 Queen Street, Charlottetown, P.E.I

where is kept for sale a complete assortment of British Drugs, Medicines, Patent Medicines,

ENGLISH AND FRENCH PERFUMERY,

Brushes, Spices, Paints, Oils, Varnish, Dye Stuffs, Garden Seeds, &c.

of the best quality, all of which are offered at moderate prices

W. R. WATSON.

Great P. E. Island Remedies!

PREPARED BY

WILLIAM R. WATSON.

Having been found, by the experience of years, to possess the remedial qualities claimed for them, are confidently recommended to those suffering from the complaints for relief of which they are respectively intended.

The Proprietor guarantees that they are the best of their kinds ever offered to the Public. Innumerable certificates of the highest authority might readily be adduced as to the efficiency of each, but the celebrity they have obtained throughout the Island, where they are manufactured and best known, and most extensively used, renders the publication of such Testimonials unnecessary.

BALSAMIC SYRUP

AN INVALUABLE REMEDY FOR

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Chronic Coughs, Influenza, Difficulty of Breathing, and all Diseases of the Lungs, and Pulmonary Complaints.

This Medicine has the extraordinary property of immediately relieving Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness in the Throat, &c. It operates by dissolving the congealed phlegm, thereby causing a free expectoration.

Those who are troubled with that unpleasant tickling in the throat, which deprives them of rest night after night, by the incessant cough which it provokes, will, by taking one dose, find immediate relief; and one bottle will, in most cases, effect a cure.

DYSPEPSIA BITTERS.

AN INVALUABLE REMEDY FOR

Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. Jaundice, Billious Complaints, Bad Breath, Sick Headache, Heartburn, Acid Stomach, Diarrhœa, and all Diseases having their origin in Costiveness, or Bad Digestion.

These Bitters will be found beneficial in first stages of Diarrhœa or Dysentery, by taking half a teaspoonful at bed time; but when it fails, "Watson's Diarrhœa Mixture" will be found a perfect remedy.

Dysentery and Diarrhœa Mixture.

Is a safe, speedy, and effectual Remedy for DIARRHŒA, CHOLIC and DISORDERS OF THE BOWELS generally, in Adults and Children, and if promptly applied in cases of CHOLERA, it would be productive of the happiest results, as it quickly relieves acute pain, dispels Flatulence, subdues Purging, and comforts and invigorates the whole system.

* * * The public will please observe that there is a seal—"Watson, Druggist, P. E. Island," upon the Cork of each Bottle, and that on the back (in panel) of each bottle there are these words: "W. R. Watson, Charlottetown, P. E. Island," without which none are genuine.

Any person who may have purchased a Bottle of either of the foregoing, and used it for any of the complaints for which they are respectively recommended, and experiencing no relief from its use, can have the price returned on production of the empty Bottle.

SUMMERSIDE.

SUMMERSIDE is situated on the north side of Bedeque Bay. It is the second town in the province, both in population and commercial importance. Ship building, which has hitherto been the leading industry, was commenced here as early as 1818, by the sons of Mr. Daniel Green, the earliest English speaking settler in the place of whom there is any account. The first store was opened here in 1833, by Mr. Peter Des-Brisay, of Charlottetown, in a building belonging to Daniel Green, jr. Queens Wharf was built in 1840, and from this date the importance of Summerside as a shipping port has continued to grow steadily. In 1846 a line of sailing packets to Shediac, N. B., was established by the Messrs. Walsh, sons of the late James Walsh, of Bedeque. In 1851 Hon. J. C. Pope, now Minister of Marine & Fisheries for the Dominion, commenced ship building in Summerside, and thus gave the place its first great start on its march to prosperity. The Custom House, which had hitherto been established at Bedeque, was removed to Summerside in 1853. In this year a steamer began to make weekly trips between Summerside and Shediac—a few years later two trips each week were made and for the past few years daily communication has been maintained between Summerside and the railway system of the continent. Summerside has always been the centre of the oyster trade, and large quantities of this delicate bivalve are yearly exported from this port. The opening of the P. E. I. Railway in 1875, has established daily communication between this port and all the leading towns and villages of the province.

In 1875 an extensive brick edifice was built, to serve as the County Court House and Jail, at a cost of $55,000, and since then Summerside has in law, as it had for years before been in fact, the capital of Prince County. The town now contains some of the largest and best stores to be seen in the province. It has seven churches—its R. C. Church, a brick building, being one of the first ecclesiastical structures on the Island. It has three public schools, one of them, a very large building, accommodating eight teachers and about six hundred pupils.

The Island Park Hotel, situated on a small Island in the harbor opposite the town and at a distance of about three-quarters of a mile from it, is the largest and most commodious building of its kind in the province. It was built some years ago by J. L. Holman, Esq., as a place of resort for summer tourists, and it possesses many special attractions for such. It was open for the reception of guests for two or three seasons, but just as its attractions were becoming widely known and appreciated it was closed in consequence of the death of its enterprising proprietor; but it is to be hoped that some one may have energy enough, at no very distant date to reopen it. Distance from Charlottetown, 40 miles. Mail daily. Population about 4,000.

GEORGETOWN

Is a well laid out town in Lot No. 54, and is the Capital of King's County. It is situated at the extremity of a narrow strip of land about six miles long, divided from the Mainland by the rivers of Cardigan and Brudenell, and is the terminus of the P. E. I. Railroad. The harbor is one of the best in the Province, and will accommodate vessels of any reasonable tonnage; and what is of very great importance, it is open for navigation the greater part of the year. Formerly the town was celebrated for its enterprise in shipbuilding, and some of the finest vessels afloat have been built here, but like other places, the depression in that particular line of industry has been felt for some time, and has naturally militated against the trade and commerce of the place. The export of agricultural produce is considerable, and if, as we may reasonably expect, freights will improve, and the demand for vessels become more active, there is no doubt whatever, the prosperous times of former years will once more make their appearance.

The original founders of Georgetown were unquestionably men of good judgment and expansive ideas, hence they made their calculations not for themselves merely, but for future generations. Their successors, luckily, have followed in their foot-steps, and the handsome and substantial stores and other buildings which adorn the town, would do credit to any commercial community.

No doubt the scheme, by many, would be considered Utopian, but we think that few towns in the Maritime Provinces are better adapted for a beet root sugar refinery, to which we have already referred in our sketch of the Island, than Georgetown—with its unrivalled harbor and extensive tract of fertile country—than which, no land, we conceive, is more suitable for the growth of the raw material. The present generation may not see the wisdom of embarking in so large an undertaking as the one under consideration, nevertheless the time will doubtless come, when the natural advantages of King's County will be turned to profitable account. There is a royalty attached to the town as in the case of Charlottetown and Princetown. At the entrance of the harbor, on what is called Panmure Island, there is a light house, and a harbor light on St. Andrew's Point, both of which are of inestimable value to those who "go down to the sea in ships" to follow their perilous calling.

The sittings of the Supreme Court are held here half yearly viz., in February and July. Distant from Charlottetown, 30 miles. Mail daily.

COUNTY COURTS

Jurisdiction of County Courts.

The County Courts have not power to try any of the following actions, namely :

First—Detinue, replevin, ejectment, or any actions where the title of land is brought in question. Or, Second Actions in which the validity of any devise, bequest, or limitation, is disputed. Or Third, Criminal conversation or seduction. Or Fourth—Breach of promise of marriage. Or, Fifth—Actions against an executor or administrator, but executors or administrators may bring actions to the said Courts. Or, Sixth—Actions against any Justice of the Peace for anything done by him in the execution of his office. Or, Seven—Actions upon a Judgment in the Supreme Court.—(See Section 16, County Courts' Amendment Act.)

The County Courts have jurisdiction in all civil actions both of debts and contracts, wrongs and damages, where the debt or damages claimed, whether on balance of account or otherwise, do not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars, and on all claims on Bail Bonds or on other Bonds, given under the County Courts' Act, or any Act in amendment thereof, whatever may be the amount sought to be recovered, and in all actions recoverable under any Provincial Statute, where the remedy provided by such statute is by suit before any Court of Commissioners for the recovery of Small Debts.—(See Section 17, County Courts' Amendment Act.)

Where the debt or demand claimed is a balance not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars, after an admitted payment, or set off of on any debt or demand, claimed or recoverable by the defendant from the plaintiff, the Court shall have jurisdiction to try such action. (See Section 18, County Courts' Amendment Act.

The plaintiff, in any County Court, cannot divide any cause or action arising out of a debt or contract, for the purpose of bringing two or more actions; but any plaintiff having cause of action, arising out of a debt or contract, may abandon the excess and can, on proving his case, recover to an amount not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars; and the judgment of the Court in such cases, shall be in full of all demands in respect of such cause of action. Provided that when any plaintiff shall have cause of action against a defendant for goods sold or delivered, and at the same time be the holder of promissory notes, made by such defendant and due and payable to the plaintiff, the plaintiff may sue for the amount of his claim for goods sold and delivered, without being required to sue at the same time upon such promissory notes, or that he may sue for such promissory notes, without being required to sue at the same time for the amount of his account for goods sold and delivered. (See section 20, County Courts' Amendment Act.)

TITLES AND OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST,

The following are the regulations about titles for the Dominion of Canada, as communicated by the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos to Lord Monck, 24th July, 1868. The 2d, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th apply also to the Provinces not in the Confederation:—

1. The Governor General of Canada to be styled "His Excellency."
2. The Lieutenant Governors of the Provinces to be styled "His Honor."
3. The Privy Councillors of Canada to be styled "Honorable," and for life.
4. Senators of Canada to be "Honorable," but only during office, and the title not to be continued afterwards.
5. Executive Councillors of the Provinces to be styled "Honorable," but only while in office, and the title not to be continued afterwards.
6. Legislative Councillors in the Provinces not in future to have that title, but gentlemen who were Legislative Councillors at the time of the Union to retain their title of "Honorable" for life.
7. The President of the Legislative Council in the Provinces to be styled "Honorable" during office.
8. The Speaker of the House of Assembly in the Provinces to be styled "Honorable" during office.

The Island, in form, resembles a crescent, the concave being towards the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Its length is about 130 miles, width 34 miles; area 2,131 square miles, or 1,365,400 acres. The surface is slightly undulating, the chain of hills which extends across the country, nowhere rising to any considerable height. Its harbors, as noticed elsewhere, are numerous, safe and commodious.

REAL ESTATE.—Frequently the question is asked what can a farm of 100 acres be bought for on the Island? Of course the price must vary according to location, quality of soil and value of buildings. We shall therefore give the testimony of two reliable gentlemen who recently furnished us with the following facts: Mr. S., a justice of the peace, informed as that he had lately purchased an excellent farm of 100 acres, with moderately good buildings, for $1,000, or say £200 stg. Our next informant gave us to understand that within the last few months he had bought a farm of 75 acres, with the growing crop of 1879, for $1,400. The crop he had saved and sold for $700. So that, allowing $150 for expenses of saving his crop, his farm only stands him in $850. The farmer is located in the western and the latter in the eastern part of the Province. There are farms, with modern buildings and other advantages, situated near towns and villages or shipping ports, which could not be purchased for anything like double the amount named; but still farms can be bought here at very low prices, and frequently on easy terms: that is if the intending buyer cannot command the whole of the purchase money, he can arrange to pay the balance by instalments. The prices named above for really good fertile land amount to very little more than one year's rent in England or the Channel Islands, and yet it is marvellous that tenant farmers with from $3,000 to $5,000, more or less, will remain at home, when they can, in this highly favored Province, become their own landlords; and it is still more surprising when it is remembered that here there is no lack of privileges—mental, moral and physical.

FISHERIES.—The catch of the staple fish has this year been unusually large, as may be seen by the report of Col. Duvar, recently forwarded to the Department. The following table gives a comparison of the product for 1878-9:—

	1878	1879
Codfish,	13,625 cwt.	35,459
Herring,	13,570 barrels.	24,079
Mackerel,	36,482 "	70,085
" in cans	1,200 lbs.	27,338
Haddock,	111,504 "	203,300
Hake,	11,708 cwt.	16,332
Lobsters in cans,	1649,800 lbs.	2,272,825

There were 5,100 men, about the same as last year, engaged, and some 500 girls employed in the lobster factories. The increase in the value of the above product of the sea, computed at official rates, is very satisfactory. The yield of the coast and streams of the Island, for 1878, was $840,344; while the total for 1879 amounts to the large sum of $1,402,501, being the net increase of $562,157.

STARCH FACTORIES.—It is gratifying to find that this important branch of industry has been started on the Island. Messrs. Shedd & Moore are the first to engage in the enterprise. It is estimated that 1000 bushels of potatoes will produce four and a half tons of starch which, at $90 per ton (the price in Boston) would be $405, and suppose that potatoes could be purchased at 25 cents per bushel, that would leave a handsome margin for profit, expenses, and interest on capital. If properly managed there can be no doubt whatever this will be a lucrative business, while the increased demand for potatoes will be a great blessing to the agricultural community.

SUGAR BEET.—Elsewhere we have referred to this important subject and would merely remark here that, according to the very best testimony, the sugar beet is of great value for feeding purposes after it is divested of its chief element. We quote from the Truro Sun—"As to the quality of the sugar beet for ordinary feeding purposes, as compared with the mangold, etc., opinions differ. Many, the majority we think, of those who profess to know, being in favor of the sugar beet. Of this, however, we may feel certain, that they are excellent food for cattle after sugar is extracted from them."

NEW ENTERPRISE.—Recently a company has been formed on the Island, with headquarters at Charlottetown, for the purpose of prosecuting the business of preserving and canning meat, poultry, game and fish for export. The abundance and cheapness of these articles warrant the assumption that this will be a profitable investment. The Island Packing Company is under the superintendence of Mr. Frank H. White, who, we understand, is one of the principal stockholders in the concern.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Press.

"THE KING'S COUNTY ADVERTISER,"

Mr. Peter McCourt, editor and proprietor, is published every Wednesday in Georgetown, the capital of the County, and has a weekly circulation of 1,300 subscribers. It is a consistent, fearless journal, and receives the support of both political parties. Purely non-sectarian, it is read and appreciated by families professing various religions. The general tone of the paper is elevating, and will, in this respect, compare favorably with any paper in the Dominion. It was established in 1876 by the present publisher.

THE "ISLAND ARGUS."

Towards the close of the year 1869 the plant and subscription list of the North Star was purchased from the proprietors by Mr. J. H. Fletcher, who issued the first number of the Island Argus on the 4th of November of that year, he being editor, proprietor and publisher. It was then a small sheet of twenty-four columns, and its circulation was rather limited. About eighteen months from the date of the first issue it was enlarged to its present size, and it has steadily grown in popular favor till it has attained a circulation second to no other secular journal published in the Province. The Argus has always commanded a liberal advertising patronage, and it circulates among all classes and creeds. From the outset of its career the Argus has been the staunch friend of advanced opinion and liberal and progressive measures. On every question affecting the welfare of the people of this Island that has come up for discussion since the paper was established it has spoken with no uncertain sound. Confederation on the best terms procurable, the Railway, the Compulsory Land Purchase Bill, Free Schools and protection to Canadian industries are some of the most important measures which the Argus has advocated with all the ability at its command. Some of these were for a time very unpopular with a large majority of the people, but the editor of the Argus has had the satisfaction of seeing them all carried successfully into effect. In general politics the Argus is Liberal-Conservative and a firm upholder of the National policy inaugurated by the present Government of the Dominion. In June, 1879, Mr. J. H. Fletcher, under whose able and judicious management the Argus prospered for nearly ten years, retired from the active editorship of the paper, for a season at least, but he is still a regular contributor to its columns. On the 1st of July Mr. C. P. Fletcher, a brother of the founder of the Argus, acquired an interest in the business, which is at present conducted under his management. In connection with the Argus there is a well-equipped job office.

“THE EXAMINER” (Daily and Weekly.)

THE EXAMINER was established in Charlottetown by the late Hon. Edward Whelan in the year 1847, and it is now the oldest paper in the Province. Its history is a chequered and eventful one. Under the able management of its brilliant and eloquent founder, it led the van of discussion on behalf of the Liberal Party and Responsible Government. In 1867 Mr. Whelan died; and, after some months, the paper fell into the hands of Mr. Walter C. Grant, and was successively edited by Robert Blake Irving, Henry Lawson and Patrick Rielly. In 1869 Grant left the Island, and Mr. Patrick R. Bowers became its Manager, but the latter was unsuccessful; and, two years afterwards, a Company was formed and incorporated to maintain it. On the 2nd of June 1873, Mr. W. L. Cotton a practical printer and editor took charge of the office as Manager for the Examiner. In July 1875 the Company sold out, and the manager became proprietor. Early in 1877 Mr. Cotton conceived the idea of starting a daily paper; and the publication of THE EXAMINER, was suspended while a Company was being formed and preparations for publishing the daily were being made. The first number of the DAILY EXAMINER (size 20 x 28 inches) was issued on the 21st of May 1877; and publication of the WEEKLY EXAMINER was resumed in November of the same year. Success has attended the undertaking; and THE EXAMINER is now one of the most influential of the Island newspapers. THE EXAMINER has done good service for the tenants of whose rights and interests it was the champion until the overthrow of the leasehold system was finally effected; and it took a pronounced stand in favor of Free Education, Confederation, the Railway, and the National Policy. At present it supports the Administration of the Right Hon. Sir John A. McDonald and the Hon. W. W. Sullivan. Mr. W. L. Cotton is Editor and Manager, Mr. N. A. Mitchell, book-keeper; Mr. Patrick McQuaid, reporter; and the paper has for its contributors some of the ablest writers in the Province. In connection with THE EXAMINER is a well equipped Job Printing Office under the superintendence of Mr. J. W. Mitchell, one of the three principal shareholders of the Company. This department is well sustained.

THE CHARLOTTETOWN "HERALD," is published every Wednesday from its office, 44 Water street, Charlottetown. It first made its appearance under the name of the Vindicator, published by Reilly & Doyle, and two years later was owned and edited by the late Edward Reilly under the name of the Herald. In November, 1870, Mr. John Caven, the present proprietor entered into partnership with Mr. Reilly, and under their management the paper was enlarged and otherwise improved. After the death of Mr. Reilly, which took place in 1872, Mr. Caven assumed the management, and the Herald became the leading paper of P. E. Island. In politics the Herald is independent. In connection with the Herald is a first class job office second to none on the Island and having in the employees the most skillful workmen that can be procured on the Island. The job work, etc., turned out from the Herald office is of the best kind. As an advertising medium the paper speaks for itself. It has more advertisements than any paper published on the Island. Merchants and others at home and abroad derive the greatest good from advertising in the Herald. The Herald has a circulation of 1,900, and every day is rapidly increasing.

THE "NEW ERA."

The New Era is now in the sixth year of its existence, having been established on the 18th of April, 1874, by its present editor and proprietor, Mr. P. R. Bowers, who some short time previously severed his connection with the Examiner, of which paper he was editor and proprietor for two years and a half. For sufficient reasons Mr. Bowers deemed it desirable to publish the New Era during the parliamentary session of 1874. and although printing material could not then be obtained nearer than Montreal, he decided that the paper should appear at the time proposed, and he resolved, although it was mid-winter, to obtain his stock, which was conveyed over the winter route of Cape Tormentine, by ice boat to Cape Traverse, and to Charlottetown by the Messrs. Irving, and their energy provided for the accomplishment of such an unusual task. The undertaking would damp the ardor of most men, but Mr. Bowers was determined that his paper should appear during the sitting of the Legislature and before the opening of spring. By energy and with a praiseworthy determination to redeem his promises numerous difficulties were overcome and his efforts were successful. Nor has the New Era lost the prestige which favored it at its birth. It sprang into life with an assured circulation of over 1,500, a remarkable fact in that day, when the population of the Province was sparse and far less comfortable and independent than, through the blessing of Providence, it is to-day. The New Era is steadily winning its way to increased patronage in consequence of the respectability of its tone and the moderation with which it treats all public questions, and it is deservedly recognized as being the most free from offensive personalities of any of the Provincial newspapers. The present office of publication is on Queen's Square, directly opposite to the Post Office building, where its proprietor now has facilities for doing all the latest styles of job and fancy printing. Its columns show that it has a very large advertising patronage.

This paper was started in 1865 by the late Joseph Bertram. The Journal has continued to grow steadily in public favor since the issue of its first number, and it enjoys to-day as wide a circulation and as valuable a subscription list as also advertising patronage as any newspaper in the Province. The fact of its having been published regularly from the day of its first appearance to the present date would indicate that it has a goodly share of public favor and patronage. The present editors and proprietors are Messrs. Graves & Co., and these gentlemen, by their energy and skill, are not only keeping up the good name the Journal has so long enjoyed but are adding to it daily.

THE "PATRIOT."

The Patriot which is published in Charlottetown every Thursday morning and Saturday evening, was established twenty-three years ago by the Hon. David Laird, now Lieutenant Governor of the North-west Territories. In September, 1876, it became the property, by purchase, of Mr. Henry Lawson, its present editor and proprietor. This paper first made its appearance as a twenty-four column folio. It has since been enlarged several times, and is now the largest newspaper published in the Province.

In politics, the Patriot is a firm supporter of the Liberal party. To quote from one of its editorials, its "colors are nailed to the mast, and Grit to the backbone." Its motto is a free country, free trade, and free schools. By its pointed and vigorous editorials, it has obtained for itself a prominent place among the Press of the Dominion as a fearless and outspoken journal. It always contains very full summaries of local and foreign news, and accurate accounts of all important events occurring up to the hour of going to press.

The Patriot has been steadily increasing in public favor ever since its establishment, and has now the largest circulation of any secular journal published in Prince Edward Island. It is read throughout every section of the Province, and is therefore an excellent advertising medium. In connection with it there is a well equipped job office.

THE "PIONEER."

The Pioneer was first published at Alberton in the year 1876 by Mr. John L. McKinnon, its present editor and proprietor. It continued to be published at that place until towards the spring of 1879, when it suspended publication for a time. The plant was removed to the thriving village of Montague, where publication was again commenced in the summer of 1879. The Pioneer is a handsomely printed twenty-four column folio. It is a lively, newsy and interesting sheet, all its selections being made with great care and good taste, and its original articles being well written.

"THE PRESBYTERIAN AND EVANGELICAL PROTESTANT UNION," was started as a weekly newspaper at the beginning of the year 1875, with the following motto:—

"Here shall the Press the People's rights maintain,
Unawed by influence or unbribed by gain:
There patriot truth her glorious precepts draw,
Pledged to Religion, Liberty, and Law."

This paper has been a wide-awake advocate of Evangelical Protestant principles, a watchful and jealous defender of Free, Non-sectarian School privileges, a contender for British rights to all alike, and a true and unselfish friend of the people. Simply owing to truthfulness and honesty of purpose, this popular journal has had more influence with the common people, who are seldom mistaken in their settled judgments, than any other newspaper ever before on P. E. Island. It can proudly boast of a circulation greater than ever possessed by any periodical in this Province—about double that of any newspaper on the Island. It has never lost a cause which it has advocated, never sustained a defeat in a general election for a principle—political and religious—that it has contended for. No party in power, during its existence, but it has followed only so far as, and no further than, the principles of true patriotism would permit or warrant. No Government but it has opposed, less or more, as well as defended, according as principle demanded. In 1876, the PRESBYTERIAN was enlarged. Since the winter of 1879, it became semi-weekly, being now published every Monday and Thursday. In January, 1880, it is to be still further enlarged, and issued for the same price. The office has lately been removed from Hyndman's Building, lower Queen Street, to the old Union Bank Brick Building, North Side Queen's Square, opposite the New Law Courts. In connection with this paper is a Job Office with better plant and outfit than any other office on the Island connected with a newspaper.

THE "SUMMERSIDE PROGRESS."

This paper was started in July, 1866, by Mr. Thomas Kirwin, now of the "Boston Traveller." It was then a twenty-four column folio. It was enlarged in 1869, when Mr. R. T. Holman was proprietor and Mr. Henry Lawson editor, to 32 columns, which size it still continues. In 1876 the paper was purchased by the present editor and proprietor, Mr. Thomas P. Gorman, who has since greatly improved it. In 1878 Mr. Gorman purchased the plant, subscription lists, &c., of the defunct Prince Edward Island Farmer, thereby adding to the Progress some hundreds of new subscribers and greatly increasing its facilities for job printing. The "Ordo" or the annual order of the services in the Catholic Church, within the arch-diocese of Halifax, is published at the Progress Office every year. The Progress has now about 1900 subscribers, and its subscription list is rapidly increasing, and it therefore becomes a first-rate advertising medium. It is conservative in politics and was the first paper in Prince Edward Island to advocate the principle of protecting Canadian industries. In the general Election campaign of 1878, the Progress took an active part, and aided greatly to secure the return of so large a majority of conservatives to the Dominion House of Commons. Mr. Thomas P. Gorman is the sole editor, and many of his articles, on general subjects, have been greeted approvingly by leading papers of the Dominion and United States.

Book & Job Printing, Book-binding & Stationery.

BREMNER BROS.

The book and stationery store of this firm is situated on Queen street. It is the leading store of the kind in this city, being in fact second to none. The stock kept on hand embraces every conceivable article which one may reasonably expect to find on entering an establishment of this kind. A large and well selected assortment of books of the best authors are always found here. The long experience of the gentlemen above named, especially adapt them for the important business in which they are engaged. Here you can purchase the classical authors of the English language in every description of binding, and in every article in the book and stationery business the best and newest alone is kept on hand. Messrs Bremner Bros. also conduct an extensive business as printers and bookbinders, and it is an acknowledged fact that this firm turns out such a class of work as will compare most favorably with any other establishment in the Dominion. A fine and costly stock of gold pens, pencils and holders, as well as a varied assortment of Christmas, New Years, Easter cards and mottoes are always kept on hand, and no one can demur at the prices charged for any article which may be selected from among the extensive display of goods which is to be seen here.

COOMBS & WORTH.

This, one of Charlottetown's foremost printing firms, was established in the year 1871 by Messrs. P. S. McGowan and G. H. Haszard, they having purchased the Islander plant from Mr. Joseph Brennan. The business was carried on very profitably by these gentlemen until the year 1875. Then a change took place, and the printing office passed into the hands of its present proprietors, Messrs. John Coombs and William Worth, two practical printers as well as energetic business men. The office, when first established, was situated on Water street, but the present proprietors, contemplating an extension in business, removed the plant to the spacious brick building on Queen street in October, 1878. Here, owing to the great demand for their work, they were obliged to add to their already well-equipped office a Wharfedale press and steam power engine, and in their office may every day be heard the constant buzzing of the busy "Wharfedale," the book, the half-medium "Universal" and the quarter-medium "Minerva" presses, all of which are driven by steam power. Messrs. Coombs & Worth exercise the greatest care to have their office regularly furnished with the latest and handsomest styles of type. Their success in this respect has been real, and since the establishment of their office it has always held the foremost rank for superior job printing. It is liberally patronized by the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, the Banks, the Government, and the leading mercantile firms, all of whom express great satisfaction at the manner in which the work is executed.

HARVIE & CO.

This House was established in 1820, by Mr. James Douglas Haszard, who, for many years, was King and Queen's Printer. He was succeeded by his son G. T. Haszard, in 1849, and in 1854, Mr. George W. Owen, became partner—the name of the firm being "Haszard & Owen." This partnership was dissolved four years afterwards, and conducted by the senior partner alone until 1860, when Mr. H. A. Harvie was admitted a member of the House and the business was then carried on under the name and style of "G. T. Haszard & Co." In 1862 another change took place, when the business was purchased by Messrs. David Laird and H. A. Harvie, the name of the new firm being "Laird & Harvie," which it retained until 1866, when the partnership was dissolved and the business divided, Mr. Laird continuing at the old stand, Mr. Harvie removing to Queen Street. In 1874, Mr. Laird disposed of his business to Mr. Harvie, so that there was a re-union of both parts of the business previously divided. The House is now conducted by Messrs. Harvie & Co., whose stock of Books, Stationery, Seeds, Toys and Fancy Goods, as seen by advertisement, is well worthy of inspection. In connection with this business, there is published the oldest Almanack in the Province, which has gained for itself a well merited popularity, it being replete with useful information and sold at a merely nominal price. It is not too much to say that with its extensive connection, the long experience of its senior partner, the courtesy exercised to all, together with its new feature of cash on delivery, that, notwithstanding the changes which have, from time to time taken place, the House is destined to have a prosperous future.

ROBERT MAY.

Whose store is located on the west side of Queen's square, is successor to Mr. A. de W. Haszard, Agricultural Warehouse. His business is of a general character, and his stock consists of garden, field and flower seeds, all of which will be found of genuine quality, true to their name and in excellent condition. As the seed season is of comparatively short duration, Mr. May has prudently combined with it the stationery, book and toy business, articles of every day use, of which he has an attractive assortment. He likewise receives orders for magazines from all parts of the world. Read his advertisement on page 105.

S. T. NELMES.

The Book and Fancy Goods store of Mr. Nelmes is situated on the south side of Queen Square. By referring to his advertisement on page 98, it will be seen that his stock consists of books, stationery and fancy goods, all of which are found in great variety. Albums, Christmas, New Year's, birth day and other fancy cards imported from British and foreign houses. English, Canadian and American periodicals supplied to order, when not in stock, at short notice. Bibles, prayer and hymn books, church services and indeed everything connected with the trade may be obtained here on the most economical terms. Since the first part of our work was set up in type Mr. Nelmes has removed to the commodious premises lately occupied by Mr. R. Young, south side Queen square, where he will be glad to see all his old patrons.

HERBERT HASZARD.

The book binding and job printing establishment of Mr. Haszard is situated at No. 18 Queen street. We find in the salesroom a full assortment of first class stationery, legal blanks, blank books, etc. The establishment is fully equipped with all the necessary machinery for the execution of ruling, printing and binding. The stamping of monograms, crests, etc., is executed in the finest style of art, and an inspection of the illuminated relief stamping which is turned out from this house shows clearly that Mr. Haszard is no tyro in his business. Particular attention is devoted to the manufacture of blank books, all kinds of which will be found constantly on hand, bound in various styles and ruled suitable for all business purposes. The stock which is kept on hand, although of the best quality, is offered to the public at most reasonable prices, and we have no hesitation in stating that the work here performed will, for style and workmanship, compare most favorably with any done in the Dominion.

LEONARD MORRIS.

This thoroughly established Book and Stationery Store is situated on Water Street, Summerside, and by unceasing energy and enterprise the proprietor has succeeded in building up an extensive business. His stock is large and well selected and no one can fail to meet with any article pertaining to the book and stationery line when visiting the store of Mr. Morris. Not only do we find Family Bibles, Prayer, School, Account Books, Stationery, Newspapers, Periodicals, &c., but also articles that are a great acquisition to every household, viz., Mason and Hamlin's Organs, and first class Sewing Machines. On inspection these will be found to be of the best manufacture and may be purchased on the most reasonable terms. Mr. M. has had considerable experience in the book business and, therefore, we are not surprised to find that works of the most eminent authors of the day, form the leading features in his establishment. Give him a call, and whenever you do so we can vouch that you will at all times meet with the utmost courtesy and attention; while at the same time if you make a small or large investment you will receive good value for your money.

PRINCE COUNTY BOOK STORE.

Among the business houses of Summerside worthy of especial mention we should not omit the "Prince County Book Store," situated on Water Street. Mrs. A. F. Doull conducts quite an extensive business. Here will be found a large and well selected stock of Bibles, Prayer, Hymn, and School Books, Photograph and Autograph Albums, Day Books, Ledgers, writing materials and many other articles in the fancy goods line, as will be seen by reference to advertisement on page 198. Mrs. Doull's stock is well assorted and reflects much credit on the good taste of that lady. Persons visiting Summerside who wish to be supplied with books, stationery or fancy goods should not fail to call at the "Prince County Book Store."

Drugs and Chemicals.

WILLIAM R. WATSON,

Wholesale and retail Druggist, occupies his own extensive premises on lower Queen Street. He is one of the oldest established Druggists in the Province, having commenced business in 1843, and continued up to the present time without intermission and with marked success. Few men have been more attentive to business than has Mr. Watson, and few can boast of a more upright business record; scrupulously attentive, always courteous, and dealing only in genuine Drugs and Chemicals, are the secrets of his success. Few establishments have out-lived commercial panics and depressions, as for nearly forty years, this has done, which, no doubt is, in a great measure, attributable to the business capacity and untiring energy of its founder. His business is not only extensive, but gradually increasing. In addition to the various articles kept in a house of this kind, including British and Foreign Drugs, Chemicals, Perfumery, Spices, Oils, Fancy Soaps, Dye Stuffs and Patent Medicines—Mr. Watson devotes careful attention to Garden, Field and Flower Seeds, all of which will be found of fine quality and in excellent condition.

For many years, the subject of our notice has held the responsible office of High Sheriff of Queen's County, is a Justice of the Peace, and may be fairly regarded as one of Charlottetown's most worthy and respected citizens.

THE APOTHECARIES' HALL.

The Apothecaries Hall is one of the leading dispensaries in the Province. It was established in the year 1810, by Thomas DesBrisay, Esq., on Queen Street, where the "Royal Oak" now stands. Mr. DesBrisay was quite successful in business, and, in the year 1835, removed to the corner of Queen and Grafton Streets, the present location of the Hall. Here he increased his stock and first raised the sign, "Apothecaries' Hall." After his death, which took place in the year 1857, the business fell into the hands of his son—Theoph. DesBrisay, Esq.,—who prosecuted a profitable trade in Drugs, &c., until the year 1874, when Mr. Frank D. Beer, M. D., and Mr. George E. Hughes formed the Apothecaries' Hall Company, and purchased Mr. DesBrisay's stock and trade. Mr. Hughes manages the business. He is a thoroughly practical chemist, and, during the short time he has had control of "Apothecaries' Hall" he has, by untiring attention and courtesy to customers, built up for it a lucrative and daily increasing trade. The stock consists of all descriptions of patent medicines, dye stuffs, perfumery, toilet requisites, a full line of surgical instruments, eye-glasses, etc., etc. Special attention is here given to the dispensing of physicians prescriptions, and family recipes. Apart from articles usually found in a first-class Drug Store, you can get at "Apothecaries' Hall" a choice and superior variety of smokers requisites which are all at moderate prices.

J. A. McCALLUM,

whose place of business is located at Montague Bridge, a flourishing Village in King's County. It is seldom that a small community is so privileged as to have a first-class Drug and Chemical Establishment, where every article connected with the business can be readily obtained, in case of sickness, without travelling to a city store. In addition to an excellent stock of genuine Drugs, Chemicals, and Patent Medicines, Mr. McCallum has a large assortment of other goods, including Pickles, Sauces, Spices, Fancy Soaps, bottled articles, fragrant perfumes, and a lot of useful and ornamental goods, usually found in a well-arranged house of the kind. The way to build up a city, town or village is to buy your goods in the community in which you live, provided they can be got as cheap and as good as at any other place. The reputation of this house is well known for the purity of its Medicines, evinced by the patronage of many members of the medical profession. Read advertisement on page 149.

Watchmakers and Jewellers.

E. W. TAYLOR.

Jewelry and precious stones have, for centuries past, been articles of personal adornment in every quarter of the globe. Among the leading establishments doing business in this line, is that of Mr. E. W. Taylor's, situated on South side of Queen Square. Here we find a large and varied stock of Gold and Silver Watches, Clocks of every description, Silver and Plated Ware, Charms of every conceivable device, Engagement and Wedding Rings, and in fact every article that we can expect to find in a first-class Jewelry Store. Parties about to make purchases, in this gentleman's line, will do well to give him a call, as among the stock which he constantly keeps on hand, even the most fastidious cannot fail to be suited. Cleaning and repairing is here executed and all work guaranteed. See his advertisement on page 142.

G. H. TAYLOR & CO.

This firm have recently succeeded Mr. J. F. McKay in his old establishment, north side Queen Square. Their stock of elegant and costly goods includes gold and silver watches, clocks, solid silver and plated wares, which is of very superior quality. Here will be found a large assortment of fancy goods, both useful and ornamental, including engagement and wedding rings, charms, locketts, brooches and many other valuable articles. The experience of one of the partners in England and elsewhere, together with the intimate acquaintance of the firm with the best markets in their line, place them in a position to supply their patrons on the very best terms. Call and inspect their valuable stock, which is regularly replenished from time to time. Read page 106.

JOHN A. CAMERON.

Delicate as is the art of Watch-making and costly the articles of Jewelry, we find that Charlottetown has some first class business houses in this line. Among those worthy of especial mention, is that of Mr. John A. Cameron, whose store is situated on Kent Street, between Great George and Prince Sts. Here can be found a well selected stock of watches and clocks of the most substantial kind and of the latest novelties in design. Jewelry at all times has an enchantment about it and one cannot resist this feeling when inspecting the various articles displayed at this establishment. A timepiece, from the hall clock to the most delicate ladies' watch, may be purchased here, as also rings and charms of every device and design, together with many other articles enumerated on page 78. Mr. Cameron being a practical workman is always in a position to execute cleaning and repairing with neatness, despatch, and on the most reasonable terms.

Dry Goods.

W. A WEEKS & CO.

Prominent amongst the dry goods houses of the city is that of Messrs. W. A. Weeks & Co., Queen Street. This house, for many years, has conducted an extensive and successful business. The practical experience, thorough knowledge of business, and intimate acquaintance of the firm with the leading markets of Great Britain, Canada and America, afford the best facilities to purchase their goods direct from the manufacturer. Thus they are in a position to place before the public all the elegant and useful novelties of each succeeding season. At the same time their prices will be found to be unusually reasonable. It may be remarked that, in order to obtain the best value for their numerous customers, one of the partners periodically visits the British and other markets. To test the verity of our statements, the reader cannot do better than call at the store, where an ample assortment of goods will be found, and no pains spared to show the articles whether the intending purchaser can be suited or not. Read advertisement on page 190.

ROBERT YOUNG,

Importer of fancy dry goods and millinery, has recently removed to No. 77 Queen street in order to have accommodation for his gradually expanding business. Here Mr. Young has commodious premises, and the location is central and convenient. This establishment has been in existence many years, and may be appropriately styled the ladies' emporium, because here may be found every article which is designed for the comfort and elegance of the female part of the community, including dress goods in great variety, furs, hats, ribbons, feathers, in fact every novelty connected with a fashionable business. The long experience, thorough knowledge and business qualifications of Mr. Young enable him to buy in the best markets and on the most favorable terms, so that he is in a position to place those benefits within the reach of his numerous customers. In addition to the dry goods and millinery business Mr. Young deals extensively in sewing machines. See advertisement on page 234, also on third last page.

PERKINS & STERNS.

The store of this well established dry goods firm is situated on Queen street, fronting on the Market Square. It is one of the foremost houses in the trade, and is conducted on the best principles by two young and well experienced business men—Messrs. Frederick Perkins and A. W. Sterns. The firm was first established in the year 1870 under the name and title of Perkins Bros., Mr. Frederick Perkins being the senior member. Four years later the Perkins Bros. dissolved partnership, and Mr. A. W. Sterns, a young gentleman of large experience in the dry goods business, entered the firm with Mr. F. Perkins, changed its title to "Perkins & Sterns," and up to the present time they have conducted the business successfully and profitably. As with all other successful firms the business of Messrs. Perkins & Sterns increased steadily. This increase necessitated the enlargement of the premises, and accordingly an addition of thirty by twenty-six feet was erected, making their salesroom as they now stand eighty-six feet in depth by twenty-six feet in width. The first flat of the store is set apart as a general salesroom, the second for the exhibition of millinery, mantles, etc., and the third for carpets, oilcloths and staple goods. A member of the firm visits Europe semi-annually, and by these frequent visits the house has formed such an intimate acquaintance with the European markets as enables them to purchase goods on the best terms, and they can thus place the benefits of their extensive purchases within the reach of all. The stock, which is purchased in the home markets consists of general dry goods, fancy articles, ladies' and gents' outfits, millinery, oil cloths, carpets, etc. This stock is regularly replenished with the latest novelties in every branch of the business. Messrs. Perkins & Sterns are about to adopt the cash principle, which they think at length is most profitable. Read page 141.

TREMAINE & METCALF.

This business was established in 1851, by Mr. James DesBrisay, in the store adjoining the Apothecaries' Hall, Queen's Square. In 1856, in conjunction with Mr. Wm. Dodd, he built the substantial brick store now occupied by his enterprising successors, and situate at 83, Queen Street, opposite the market. In 1873, on account of his rapidly growing business, the premises were enlarged by extending them eighty-four feet in the rear and adding a third story, making it one of the most commodious stores in the city.

In 1879, the gentlemen, whose names head this notice, purchased the business and entered upon the premises of Mr. DesBrisay. They have embarked in the undertaking on peculiarly favorable circumstances, having a wide-spread connection in city and country, fostered under the old management which had always been regarded as fair and honorable. This, in itself, was a good foundation to work upon; but the introduction of new blood, when it is of the right quality, into any concern, is an element of vital importance in these days of keen competition. We find the firm commencing at the right end; they advertise, and what is more, they do so judiciously, otherwise their names would not appear in our columns, (see page 102.) This is a sure indication of success, as seen in the career of A. T. Stewart and many other successful merchants of minor note. This house contains a general assortment of Dry Goods, including Gloves, Hosiery, Millinery, fur and cloth Mantles, Mantle Cloths, Ladies' and Gent's Under Clothing, with a host of other Goods, which we cannot here enumerate. As is often the case, in this and other Provinces, the house has in stock a large assortment of fine Teas; and one of their specialties is Camel's Hair Bolting Cloth, for Millers.

JNO. H. CATHRAE.

One of the finest displays of Sample Goods to be seen in the lower Provinces, is that made by Mr. Jno. H. Cathrae, whose Sample Rooms are situated on the corner of Water and Queen Streets. He is one of the leading Merchants' and Manufacturers' Agents on the Island, and has prosecuted a brisk business throughout the Provinces for a number of years. At his Rooms may always be found a complete assortment of Samples in English, Canadian and American Dry Goods, including Hats, Caps, Gloves, Furs, Boots and Shoes, English and American Rubber Goods, Teas, Vinegars and other articles. Mr. Cathrae represents some of the leading Houses in England, Scotland and the Provinces; among which are Reniach's Nephew & Co., of London, England; Wilson, Matheson & Co. of Glasgow, Scotland; Robertson, Dawson & Co., of Montreal, Canada; &c., &c., &c., as may be seen on reference to page 110.

J. E. GRANT.

Dealers in Dry Goods, visiting Charlottetown, should call on Mr. Grant, as he keeps samples of the finest Goods in his line. His place of business is on the corner of Queen and Water Streets, formerly used as the Merchants' Exchange or Reading Room. Mr. Grant's business may be legitimately described as that of a Merchant's and Manufacturer's Agent; hence, he keeps samples of all kinds of Merchandize, including black and gros grain Silks, Mantle Velvets, black and colored Cashmeres, Merinos, Paramettos, Alpacos, Brillantines, and in fact, every description of goods, which are sold to dealers only.

In addition to Dry Goods, Mr. Grant keeps samples of other Merchandize, and judging from his reputation as being scrupulously attentive to the interests of his patrons, we have no hesitation in recommending him to the trade. See advertisement on first outside cover of Directory.

HON. D. GORDON.

More than a quarter of a century has elapsed since the business of the gentleman whose name heads this notice was commenced, it having been established in 1852, at Georgetown, King's County. The stock of this house consists of general merchandize including East and West India produce, dry goods, ship chandlery, cordage, anchors, and chains which are sold at wholesale and retail. In looking over Mr. Gordon's extensive assortment of goods, one cannot but notice the extent and variety of his wares and the legitimate conclusion we arrive at is that his stock would do credit to a first class city house. A leading feature here is, that the goods are fully assorted and regularly replenished from British and Foreign Markets. In addition to the business already named, ship building some time ago formed an important part of the establishment; unfortunately, however, of late years this branch of industry has been marked by depression and therefore for the time being abandoned, which it is hoped will only be of temporary duration.

Notwithstanding the extent of his secular engagements, Mr. Gordon has been able to devote a portion of his time to the interests of his country, hence we find, that from 1866 to 1871 he occupied a seat in the Legislative Council and entered the House of Assembly in 1876 and still continues a member of that venerable body. Without any intention of flattery, the subject of our present article may be justly regarded as one of Prince Edward Islands's successful merchants and sapient statesmen.

ALEXANDER McMILLAN,

Whose principal place of business is located at Wheatley River, Queen's County, may be regarded as one of the enterprising merchants of the Island. His stock consists of an extensive assortment of British, foreign and home manufactured goods, including farming implements, hardware and house furnishings, dry goods, boots and shoes, groceries and provisions, with every article usually found in a first class general store. One of the leading features in this establishment is the purchase and exportation of agricultural produce, and Mr. McMillan being an extensive shipowner is in a position to give employment to his vessels when they are not otherwise engaged. There are two branches connected with this house, one at Hunter River, the other at Stanley Bridge, both of which do a lucrative business. The long experience and excellent facilities which the head of this house possesses enable him to do an extensive trade, which is mutually advantageous to himself and his numerous patrons.

Tailoring.

C. ROBERTSON.

This well known house is situated on the corner of Queen and Dorchester Streets. It is one of the foremost establishments in the custom tailoring and outfitting trade in the Province. The proprietor, Mr. Robertson, devotes himself exclusively to the business, and hence it is conducted on the best principles. The house was first established in 1872 and at that time situated on the western side of Queen street, but, owing to his rapidly extending business it was found necessary to remove to the spacious building as indicated above. The ground floor is sixty-five feet in depth by thirty feet in width, and is set apart as a general sales room and office; the second for cutting and trimming; the third for workmen and the fourth for extra stock. None but the best of cutters and workmen that can be found in the Dominion are employed here, and therefore the best of style is the result. The stock, which is purchased in the first markets of Great Britain, Canada and the United States at the lowest cash prices (the benefits of which his patrons are given), consists of black and blue West of England broads, English, Scotch and Canadian tweeds, beavers, &c., and a handsome stock of gents' furnishing goods, as described on pages 166 and 225. The entire stock is regularly replenished with the latest novelties in every branch of the business. Call and see for yourself at 50 Queen street, Duncan's old stand.

BRUCE & McKENZIE.

The firm which we have now under notice is one of the many prominent business houses in Charlottetown. The stock on hand is extensive and is replete with new, fashionable and seasonable goods, while the fashion and general get up of garments ordered at this establishment are of such a character that cannot fail to give satisfaction. The ready-made department embraces a great variety of the best goods both as regards quality and style. Messrs. Bruce & McKenzie are the successors to the tailoring and clothing branch of the business of Mr. George E. Full. They are both young men, genial, courteous and obliging, and have since they commenced business, commanded a large share of public patronage. By reference to their advt., on page 60 it will be found that they keep on hand many articles which we are unable to enumerate here.

LESLIE J. WILLIAMS.

The business of tailoring is prosecuted to as great an extent in Charlottetown as it is in any other city in the Dominion with a similar population, and we can boast of a class of tailors who are more than average workmen. Among the houses in the trade is that of Leslie J. Williams, which is situated on Lower Queen Street. Here gents' garments are made to order in the latest styles, and finished with the greatest elegance. Mr. Williams is very attentive to business, and, by his attention, courtesy and good workmanship, has secured a large share of patronage. His work gives general satisfaction. He receives the British and American fashion plates monthly, and thus keeps posted in the fashions of both countries. Mr. Williams keeps in stock some of the finest fabrics to be found in the trade, which include English and Canadian tweeds, broadcloth and doeskins, and trimmings of excellent quality. Remember his address, 24 Queen Street, and read page 134.

JOHN BELL.

This well-known Establishment, which is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieut. Governor of the Island, is one of the oldest of the kind in the City. Mr. Bell's long experience in and practical knowledge of the business, enable him to turn out garments of every description, of superior workmanship and the latest style of fashion. The materials and trimmings kept in stock are of the finest quality, as he buys exclusively in the best markets, and on the most favorable terms. He is in a position to supply the latest novelties in textures, colors, tweeds, diagonals, doeskins, fancy vestings. and, indeed, every article connected with the trade. His place of business is on Kent Street, between Queen and Pownal Streets. Read carefully page 93.

Groceries.

DAVISON & CO.,

Grocers and general dealers, are located on the corner of Great George and Kent streets. They have an extensive stock of all kinds of goods in their line. Here the intending purchaser will find a valuable assortment of teas, coffees, sugars, dried fruit, pickles, spices, confectionery and fancy goods and a host of miscellaneous articles always found in a first class family store. This firm is well established, and their reputation for selling goods of sterling quality at moderate prices is well known not only in the city but in the country. In fact they might very appropriately use as their watchword the sensible motto "small profits and quick returns." Read their advertisement on page 226.

R. K. BRACE.

The FAMILY GROCERY established some time ago by the gentleman whose name heads this notice, has, in a comparatively short period, become very popular. This, in some measure, is due, no doubt, not merely to the genuine character of his goods, but to the courtesy and attention which he manifests towards his patrons. The experience of Mr. Brace has been considerable, extending over many years, seven of which were spent in the establishment of the present respected Mayor of the city, so that his business habits are well formed, and, with ordinary industry, cannot fail to lead to ultimate success. In addition to a well-selected stock of Groceries and Provisions, he keeps in stock an assortment of house findings, including Knives, Forks, tea and table Spoons, Looking Glasses, and a host of other goods required for family use. Mr. Brace is Agent for Hyde's celebrated Cheese, well known throughout the Island for its delicious flavor. Read advertisement on page 69, and remember address, Queen Square, opposite Market House.

A. N. LARGE.

There being quite an extensive demand for aerated waters in this Province we find this business house, which is situated on the corner of Queen and Kent streets, doing a thriving trade in that line. Mr. Large not only supplies dealers with the beverages of his own manufacture, but is also an importer and dealer in family groceries, fruits and provisions generally, and he is prepared to fill any orders with which he may be favored on the most reasonable terms. See his advertisement on page 113.

Hardware.

SIMON W. CRABBE.

Among the enterprising merchants of Charlottetown Mr. S. W. Crabbe has occupied a prominent position for many years. His salesrooms and warehouse, at 109 Queen street (the sign of the stove), constitute quite an extensive establishment. Here the purchaser will find a great variety of hall, parlor and cooking stoves. His imports are made direct from the most celebrated manufacturers, and at all times goods are offered at such figures as cannot fail to meet the expectations of even the most economical. Mr. Crabbe is no tyro in his business, and therefore every one desirous of being furnished with first-class articles may unhesitatingly rely on his judgment. On reference to page 89 the reader will see the extensive assortment kept in stock. This store is always furnished with a complete line of hardware, and we are glad to state that the proprietor is doing a most lucrative business.

CITY TIN STORE.

Mr. C. F. Harris, the proprietor of this establishment, prosecutes quite a lively business in the manufacture of sheet iron and tinware, at his new store, on Upper Queen Street. He employs the best of workmen, turns out all descriptions of plain, stamped and japanned articles, black and Russian iron stove pipe, coal hods, shovels, etc. Mr. H. is also a gas-fitter and bell-hanger of large experience; and, in this branch, as well as with his tinware and ironmongery, he will be found to give general satisfaction. Give him a call, and remember that he is to be found at his new store, Upper Queen Street, between Grafton and Kent Streets

M. STEVENSON.

Amongst many other excellent houses in the tinware line is that of Mr. M. Stevenson, of No. 55 Queen Street. Here the purchaser will find a varied assortment of stoves, stove pipes, register grates, fancy and japanned tinware, which he sells wholesale and retail. By strict attention to the wants of his customers, moderate charges, and the superior quality of his goods, Mr. Stevenson has succeeded in building up an extensive business, with every prospect of a still greater increase. Read his advertisement on page 72.

A. C. THOMPSON & CO.

(New Glasgow, N. S.)

The hardware, stove and tinware business is well represented in New Glasgow, N. S., by the firm above named. They are wholesale manufacturers, and conduct an extensive trade throughout the Lower Provinces. As may be seen by reference to page 222, this firm makes every description of tinware, coalhods, tubular lanterns, "perfection" oil tanks and all kinds of sheet iron work, which is executed in the very best style. In addition to the manufacture of the articles before mentioned, their store, which is situated on Provost street, is well equipped with a full assortment of hardware, and here the purchaser will not fail to meet with every requirement in that line. The farmer also can be furnished with Copp brother's celebrated plows, as this is one of the agencies for that very desirable farm implement. An inspection of the stock is cordially invited from one and all, and persons taking advantage of this will not, we feel assured, leave the establishment without admitting that they have found a house, where it will be to their advantage to transact any business which may have relation to the hardware, stove or tinware branches.

Hotels.

THE SEA SIDE HOTEL.

This first class watering place is situated on a bluff jutting into Rustico Bay opposite the larger harbour, which is near the centre of the North Shore of the Island. It was established in 1872 and known as the "Ocean House," but came under the management of the present proprietors, Messrs. John Newson & Co., in 1874, from which time it has been known as the "Sea Side Hotel." It enjoys an excellent reputation under its present management. The sea-fishing, boating, surf bathing, &c., are superior, salubrious and bracing, while the charming scenery cannot fail to attract attention of tourists &c.

It has been annually patronized by some of the best American and Canadian families.

It was visited by the Marquis of Lorne and Suite on August 16, 1879 on which occasion the proprietors were instructed by the Local Government and Vice-Regal reception Committee to provide a luncheon for the Vice-Regal Party and a number of invited guests, which was served in a spacious Pavillion, erected for the purpose, and in a manner highly spoken of, and which fully sustained the prestige of the "Sea Side Hotel."

Upon the register we notice the names of the Lieutenant Governor and Suite (annual visitors.) The Bishop of Nova Scotia, the Right Hon. Sir Hugh Childers and Lady Judge Wilmot, Rev. Gavin Lang and family, (annual visitors), Judge Hensley of Ch'town, Judge Lorrence of Montreal, Mr. Justice Barton of Toronto, Chancellor Carroll of South Carolina, Hon. J. C. Pope, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. McKenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, J. M. LeMoine of Quebec, &c., &c. most of whom spend some weeks every season.

This Hotel is about 18 miles from Ch'town, and can be reached by horse and carriage drive, passing through a beautiful country with magnificent scenery for which the Island is noted, perhaps the grandest in America in the summer season. Or by train to Hunter River, thence by coach to the "Sea Side."

REVERE HOUSE.

This well-established Hotel is situated at the head of the Steam Navigation Wharf, overlooking the beautiful harbor of Charlottetown, and is conducted by Mrs. McNeill. It has been recently enlarged and improved, and the addition is a very great advantage, as the house can now accommodate its rapidly increasing business. It is furnished throughout in the most modern style, with every regard to the comfort and convenience of its numerous patrons. With commercial men, this house has enjoyed an established reputation, and all who have visited the "Revere," acknowledge that no pains are spared to promote the well-being of its patrons. The table fare is excellent, the culinary department being managed by experienced employees, while the charges are strictly moderate for a first-class Hotel.

THE RANKIN HOUSE.

This Hotel is pleasantly situated on the corner of Water and Pownal Streets, and commands an extensive view of the harbor, and the very pleasing scenery which surrounds it. The present proprietor, Mr. John J. Davies, succeeded Miss Rankin, the lady who established this Hotel, in the year 1878, and has since carried on the business in such a manner that has given entire satisfaction to his numerous guests. Mr. Davies has had much experience in hotel business, and endeavours at all times to give the travelling public the benefit of that experience. There are fifty comfortable sleeping apartments, several parlors and reception rooms, besides sample rooms for commercial men, bath rooms, and a spacious dining room; the larder of the latter is at all times bountifully supplied with every thing the season and market afford. This house is well patronized by visitors, business men and others. The proprietor, Mr. D., is very popular as a host, and is always on hand to minister to the wants of his many patrons.

ROCKLIN HOUSE.

This popular hotel, which has been established nearly twenty years, is conducted by the proprietor, Mr. Simon D. Fraser. The central position of the "Rocklin" and its proximity to the market make it very convenient for farmers and others whose sojourn in the city is temporary. Commercial travellers, tourists, visitors and the travelling public generally will find the house replete with every comfort and convenience. The sleeping apartments are airy and cheerful, and parties seeking quiet and recreation will do well to make this house their home while in the city. Carriages are always in attendance at the trains and steamboats to convey guests to the hotel. Attached to the establishment is extensive stabling and experienced hostlers. Read advertisement on page 101, and remember the address, Kent street between Queen and Great George streets.

WAGSTAFF'S HOTEL.

This modern house, prior to its renovation, was known as the "Old Rankin," corner Sydney & Pownal Streets, and now bears the above name. It is conducted by Mr. Wm. Wagstaff and has already secured a fair share of public patronage. It is located in an excellent position, not far distant from the leading thoroughfares, Market, Post Office, Custom House, Banks & Public Offices. As a commercial house it has already become popular, and as a necessary consequence its comforts are sought after by commercial men and others. Those who may make the hotel under notice their home while in the City will meet with every attention from the obliging proprietor or his efficient representative. Read advertisement on page 130.

FRANKLIN HOUSE.

Is situated in the Royalty, in the environs of the City, and is conducted by the proprietor, Mr. Henry Coombs. This commodious hotel has been recently erected in a beautiful locality at considerable cost. It has been furnished expressly for the accommodation of visitors, strangers, and the travelling public generally. Its location is in one of the most healthy parts of the Royalty, away from the smoke and bustle of the city, where the tourist will find quietude and enjoyment. Few places are better adapted for boating and bathing, as the house is in close proximity to the health inspiring waters of the West River. Read advertisement on page 81.

UNION HOUSE.

Is situated on Queen Street, Charlottetown. Mr. P. P. Gillis, the proprietor, has, by prompt attention and courtesy to the wants of his customers, secured a fair share of public patronage. The numerous persons who come to town and find that they cannot delay until meal hours will do well to give Mr. Gillis a call as meals are served at any time on the shortest possible notice. First class oysters are always kept on hand and are served up in any style that may be desired. Refreshments of all descriptions will also be found here, all of which are the finest quality. In connection with this establishment there is a barber shop, which is neatly and comfortably furnished, and gentlemen having occasion to visit this department will always find experienced and obliging attendants to wait on them.

FRANKLIN HOUSE.

This hotel is situated on Central street, Summerside, and in consequence of the proprietor's (Mr. George Muttart) constant endeavors to please one and all who may favor him with their patronage, we find that he is gaining quite a goodly share of public support. Farmers and others visiting the town will do well to call at the "Franklin," as the stabling accommodation is excellent, the rooms comfortable, the table fare substantial, and the charges very moderate.

REVERE HOUSE, PICTOU, N. S.

Persons who for business or pleasure, have occasion to sojourn in Pictou, N. S., will not be at a loss for accommodation, for at the house which we have now under notice may be found all the requisites to make a home from home most comfortable. Mr. Charles L. Rood, the proprietor, is widely and favorably known as one of the most obliging and attentive of hosts. The house is situated on Coleraine Street, and persons patronizing it will find that even in the hot summer months, cool and bracing air is always to be enjoyed in this locality. Business men and others will find this house admirably adapted for them, it being in close proximity to the Railway Station, Banks, Post Office, &c., and they will at all times meet with every attention from the obliging proprietor. The tables are furnished with all the delicacies of the seasons, while the charges are very moderate, the motto of Mr. Rood being "live and let live."

Insurance.

M. A. CAMERON.

Amongst the insurance men of the Island Mr. Cameron may be regarded as one of the most prominent, he having in a few years built up a large business. He devotes his entire attention to insurance, hence the secret of his success—he has, however, had considerable experience in this particular line of business and therefore is conversant with all its details including fire, life, marine, and accident.

One important feature in Mr. Cameron's business is the character and stability of the offices which he represents—they have only to be named to be appreciated. The "Royal" of Liverpool, and the "Lancashire" of Manchester are old and substantial companies which, with others for which he is agent, are well known for their soundness in a financial point of view.

E. H. NORTON.

Few subjects have engaged public attention and especially that of the prudent part of the community more than the subject of Insurance during the past half century. Notwithstanding its paramount importance however, there are thousands who do not avail themselves of its numerous benefits. Mr. Norton's advertisement which appears on page 170, should be read with interest, and the case of the "poor fellow" who had no accident policy on his life should be carefully studied. If a man unluckily is overtaken by calamity by which he is disabled, he will receive $10 or $20 a week, more or less, as the case may be according to amount of policy; and it is astonishing how quickly a medical man will attend the sick and dying when he knows he will be paid for his services and it is not less surprising how readily the sympathy of our friends is bestowed when a golden reward is seen in the distant future. Mr. Norton undertakes all risks.

Cabinet Makers.

MARK BUTCHER.

Prominent amongst the business establishments of the City is the Steam Cabinet Factory of Mr. Mark Butcher, located on the corner of Kent and Hillsborough Streets.

Half a century has passed away since this gentlemen commenced the battle of life, and his business career has evidently been a marked success. As the city has grown, and the population increased, his trade has enlarged and his facilities to manufacture have multiplied. In his extensive show rooms may be seen a magnificent stock of plain and elegant cabinet furniture, comprising walnut parlor and chamber suits, bedsteads, lounges, mattresses, side boards, bureaus, looking glasses, toilet stands, dressing tables; chairs in great variety, with every other article, useful and ornamental, connected with the trade. As will be seen by advertisement on page 118. A leading feature in the house is that of Undertaking, and here will be found at all times a large assortment of the goods necessary when the mantle of gloom is thrown over the domestic circle. It is only right to say, in this brief notice, that the prosperity of this house is the legitimate fruit of upright dealing, patient industry, prudent enterprise and untiring perseverance.

JAMES HOBBS.

The furniture factory of Mr. James Hobbs is situated on Prince Street, near the new Baptist Church. Mr. Hobbs' large experience together with his practical knowledge of the business enables him to turn out such work as cannot fail to give satisfaction as to price, style and quality. It should be remembered that he does not confine himself to any one branch of the business, but embraces all, including that of Undertaking, to which he gives his most particular attention. Mr. Hobbs has recently fitted up a most elegant hearse, and has constantly on hand a supply of caskets and coffins of all sizes, thus making the Undertaking Department—which is personally superintended by himself—in every respect complete.

Parties will therefore find that, under all circumstances, their wants may be well supplied at this establishment. The young beginner may have his home economically furnished—the older veteran, whose growing wealth justify him in furnishing more costly and elegantly, can be suited here, and when the stern and painful realities of domestic life make their appearance—in all cases Mr. Hobbs will be ready to attend to the wishes of those who may favor him with their orders. Read page 206.

Carriage Manufacturers.

YOUNKER, OFFER & CO.

The carriage factory of the above mentioned firm is situated on Queen Street. It was first established by Messrs. Proud and McCoubrey and fell into the hands of the present firm in the year 1874, since which time they have carried on a thriving business as they have received that share of public patronage which good work and attention to business so well deserve. The carriages, sleighs, &c., which are manufactured at this establishment are excellent, and we would advise all in need of first class vehicles, at moderate prices, to call and inspect the stock which is kept on hand. Repairing, painting, &c., are executed on short notice and in first class style as described on page 113.

J. & R. SCOTT.

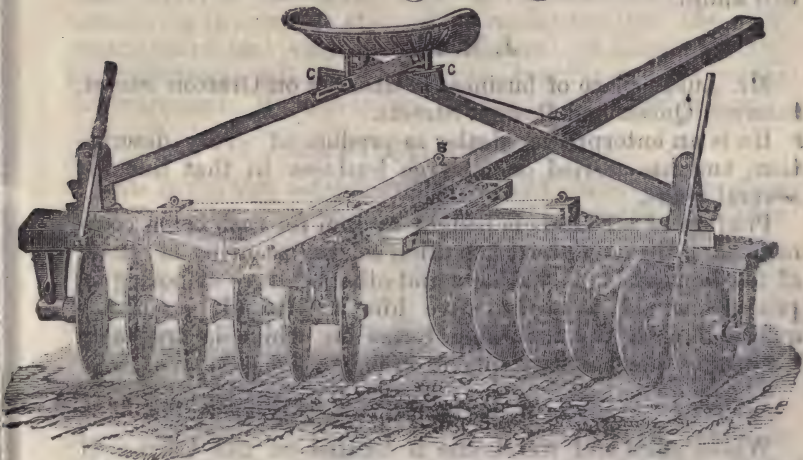

This well-established Carriage Factory, situated on Kent Street, was founded by the senior partner, Mr. John Scott, in 1842, and in 1861 the partnership was formed by the introduction of Mr. Robert Scott, the junior member of the firm. Few houses have outlived the commercial storms of nearly forty years, yet the one under notice appears with as solid a foundation as ever, which, doubtless is in some measure due to the very great caution exercised in its business transactions. Carriages, Buggies, Waggon, Cutters and Sleighs are manufactured here, and all work turned out by this house is of a superior character; the materials used in their construction are of excellent quality, durable in wear, moderate in price, and attractive in appearance. See advertisement on page 133. Remember the address, Kent Street, between Queen and Pownal Streets

HEWSON, McDUGALL & SEAMAN.

Charlottetown is well represented in the carriage building line by the gentlemen whose names appear above. The partners of this establishment have had considerable experience in this very important branch of business, and they have the well deserved reputation of turning out first class work. The manufacturing of the celebrated "Dexter spring wagon" is a specialty with this firm, and it is well known that no springs are so well adapted for rough roading, durability and ease as are the "Dexter." Carriages and sleighs of all descriptions are turned out from this establishment, and it will amply repay any one for the time spent in inspecting the stock which is always kept on hand. The prices are reasonable and the workmanship most excellent, therefore we predict that this firm must, in due course, be abundantly rewarded for the energy and skill displayed by them. In the repairing shop, no side department we find dilapidated vehicles undergoing renovation and repairs, and in time these vehicles are turned out in a style that would defy recognition, while at the same time they are made sound, and will therefore do good service for considerable time to come.

Engine & Boiler Makers.

ESDALE FOUNDRY.

The establishment bearing the above name was started under its present management in June, 1872, and now supplies a want formerly much felt by the mechanical and agricultural community, as this foundry turns out in good style engines and boilers, every description of ships' castings and farming implements which practical experience has proved to be best suited to the country. Therefore the patronage of shipbuilders, mechanics and farmers should be liberally extended to so useful an institution, which gives not only employment to a number of skilled workmen, but is a means of keeping in circulation, besides preventing a large amount of drainage of money from the country. The "Randall Harrow," as represented above, is a leading agricultural implement manufactured by this enterprising firm. See advertisement on page 511.

Produce Dealers.

ROBERT BRIDGES.

The extensive pork packing establishment of Mr. Bridges is situated on Hillsborough Street, adjacent to King's Square. This house has taken the lead in the meat market line for years, and the proprietor is still prosecuting a most successful business in pork packing, &c. He exports large quantities of pork, and the different brands which he necessarily puts in the foreign market command a ready sale. Mr. B. also deals extensively in Hides, Calfskins, and Agricultural Produce, for which he always pays the highest prices that the market will afford.

J. M. AULD.

Mr. Auld's place of business is situated on Grafton Street, between Queen and Pownal Streets.

He is an enterprising dealer in produce of every description, and has carried on a large business in that line for several years.

Produce of all kinds is bought by him for cash or on commission. He pays strict attention to the securing of stock of the best quality. Farmers and others, before disposing of produce, would do well to give him a call and become acquainted with the favorable terms on which he transacts business. Read advertisement on page 82.

S. H. BROWN.

Whose office and warehouse is located on the Corner of Water and Pownal Streets, is a buyer and shipper of all kinds of agricultural produce as may be seen by his advertisement on page 178. He pays the highest market price for goods in his line and is prepared to contract for large or small quantities to meet the convenience of all parties. Mr. Brown's experience and knowledge of the best markets, place him in a position to give the farmer every legitimate advantage.

Miscellaneous.

ACTUAL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

This establishment is situated on the corner of Queen and King streets, Charlottetown. It was established in the year 1873, and has since found its way to the confidence of the people, and is therefore meeting with a great measure of success. The course of instruction imparted here is invaluable to young men who are about to enter commercial life. It is conducted on actual business and scientific principles, and embraces all subjects necessary for commercial life. It is the only college in the Province that gives a thorough business course, and with what success will appear from the readiness with which the students, on completion of their course, fall into employment. In addition to the commercial branch, we find that there are classes in which masters and mates are prepared for the local marine examination. Judging from the number that have received certificates from this college, we have every confidence in stating that it is conducted on the first principles of this very important branch of education, and no student can fail to derive great advantages when under the training of its able tutors, Messrs. Reagh and Miller.

"CITY STEAM BAKERY."

This is the only establishment of the kind in the Province of P. E. Island. It was founded by the present proprietor, Mr. John Quirk, many years ago, and has since been carried on with marked success. Mr. Quirk's enterprise in this essential branch of business is most praiseworthy. The spacious premises which he occupies on Prince Street were erected by him and afford every facility for the prosecution of the extensive business in which he is engaged. All descriptions of plain and fancy bread and biscuit are made here daily, and a great boon is therefore rendered to mariners and others as they are enabled to secure supplies which are fresh and of the best quality. Cakes and confections for weddings, picnics, balls, &c., are made under the personal supervision of the proprietor, and, as a consequence, do not fail at all times to give the utmost satisfaction.

HICKEY & STEWART.

This tobacco manufactory was established in Charlottetown more than thirty years since by Mr. George C. Lowden, who was succeeded by Mr. M. Lowden. This gentleman conducted the establishment until his departure from the Province in 1874. The business at this time passed into the hands of the present firm, Messrs Hickey & Stewart, who had previously acquired a thorough knowledge of the trade.

The house rates as A No. 1 is well deserving of such classification. There are from 40 to 60 hands employed here, and as we pass from room to room it is interesting to see with what rapidity each employee handles the material and makes it ready for the next process in manufacture. When the business was first commenced there were but two rude screw presses, but as proof of the growth of this house we need only say that there are now ten screw and four powerful hydraulic presses all of which are kept constantly at work. Every variety of plug, twist and pigtail tobacco is here manufactured and supplied to dealers at moderate prices, as may be seen on reference to page 121.

A member of the firm makes semi-annual trips to the Southern States where extensive purchases are made. In addition to the local trade we are pleased to know that Messrs. Hickey and Stewart are on the high road for the development of an extensive business in Labrador and Newfoundland. We wish them all the success which their energy so well deserves.

TRYON WOOLLEN MILLS.

Prominent amongst the industries of the Island, is the extensive Steam Woollen Factory of Messrs. Reid Brothers, situated at the important Village of Tryon, Prince County. This establishment was formerly known as the Stanfield Mills, and it was never in more efficient working order than it is at present. The Cloths and other goods manufactured here, are of superior quality, and the samples shown at the County exhibitions have received the highest commendations. The stock consists, chiefly of ladies' and gentlemen's Over-Coatings, Suitings in merinos and coarse wool, Blankets made from fine pure combing wools, union and wool Shirtings, Druggets and Flannels, Carpets of various patterns, and many other articles, which for warmth and comfort, durability in wear and moderation in price, cannot be rivalled. When home manufactured Goods can be obtained at low figures, it seems marvellous that articles of inferior quality should be sought after simply on account of their glossy but too often deceptive appearance. Read advertisement on page 169.

W. R. BOREHAM.

In Charlottetown the name of W. R. Boreham, whose extensive boot and shoe store is on S. side Queen Square, is brought prominently before the mind of the shopper as one of the most active and enterprising merchants in the boot and shoe line and who does an extensive trade with both city and country buyers. The stock is one of the finest assorted in the city. Every line of mens', youths' and boys', ladies', misses' and childrens' boots and shoes of the newest, most fashionable and best styles are here in stock, as also are fancy styles of boots and shoes in French and American kids. Mr. Boreham gets a liberal share of patronage from the citizens of Charlottetown, as well as outside visitors who are quick to avail themselves of every opportunity whereby value may be obtained and such desirable results are sure to accrue to all buyers when they purchase from the house under notice.

M. P. HOGAN.

The lumber yard of Mr. Hogan is located at the South end of Great George Street. It will be seen by reference to advertisement on page 146 that he is an importer and dealer in every description of lumber. His imports are from the best markets of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec, and it is well known that he keeps his yard regularly furnished with the best kinds of seasoned goods. All those buying from Mr. Hogan have no hesitation to express the utmost satisfaction with such lumber as they have from time to time had occasion to purchase at this establishment.

GEORGE H. SIMMONS.

The establishment of Mr. Simmons is situated on Lower Spring Park Road where an extensive business in the manufacturing of Soda Water, Lemonade, Ginger Beer, Ginger Ale, and Syrups of all descriptions has been carried on for a number of years past. Mr. Simmons has had much experience in this line of business, and the beverages which he manufactures are pronounced by all judges to be of excellent flavor, and wholesome in every respect. He supplies dealers in the city and elsewhere at stated periods, and for the past nine years has done a flourishing business. Read advertisement on page 138.

E. G. HUNTER.

The stone cutting business is well represented by the gentleman whose name appears above. He conducts it on Kent Street (near Hillsborough Street). Mr. Hunter has had much experience in this line of business, having been a practical workmen in the U. States for upwards of twenty years, and, as a consequence, the work executed by him is excellent, equal to any turned out in the Province. Persons requiring Monuments, Headstones, Tablets, etc., should give him a call as he, in all cases, guarantees first class workmanship and spares no pains to give satisfaction. See his advertisement on page 77.

BENJAMIN TOOMBS.

The necessity of some kind of cheap but substantial roofing for building has long been felt here and elsewhere, that need has however been overcome by "Scott's patent Sheet Iron Roofing," and wherever builders have given it a trial it has, in all cases, given the utmost satisfaction; so much so that there are over five million square feet in use at the present time, which fact is proof of its superiority. Mr. Toombs, who is agent for this very valuable article of commerce, conducts his business on Euston Street near Great George Street. He is also agent for the "Great western well auger" and will at all times enter into contracts for the sinking of wells of from 3 feet to 6 feet in diameter and, what is a most important item in this branch of business, he will guarantee a bountiful supply of water. As may be seen on reference to page 223.

STEPHEN T. STUMBLES.

A number of first class livery stables should always be maintained in all cities pleasantly situated, surrounded by beautiful scenery, and having first class drives, Charlottetown is so situated, and has excellent drives, but strange to say there are few Livery Stables. Among the foremost of those which are established is that of Mr. Stephen T. Stumbles which is located on Upper Great George Street. Here may be found a number of handsome vehicles, and excellent roadsters which he is ready to hire for conveyance to any required distance at very moderate charges. See his advertisement on page 114.
